CIVILIAN DEFENSE EXERCISE TODAY

NO DISORDER, NO PANIC is the objective of a full-fledged "walk home" drill to be conducted today from all five Menlo Park Eelementary School District schools. The 2400 youngsters in classes in the district have been learning their "assembly areas" on school grounds during the past several weeks and, as demonstrated by the picture of a group being led by Oak Knoll Principal Dick Johnson, maintain good order while proceeding to the limits of the school grounds.

It's Walk-Home Day at Schools

Menlo Park's nearly 2400 elementary school children will "walk home" from school today as part of the school district's Civil Defense preparedness program.

Richard Key, vice principal of Oak Knoll School and CD coordinator for the district, said each school will be emptied within five minutes and that students are to reach their homes within half an hour after the 2 p.m. drill begins.

The energetic CD drill is the result of over a year of planning by PTA leaders and school officials.

Extra police will be on duty in both Atherton and Menlo Park, and Civil Defense volunteers and block mothers will supervise students along the "walk home" routes.

Key said that each child has been drilled on the path he is to take. Primary grade children will wear colored tags which match color points put up at departure points around each school yard.

Each child will also take a printed form on which parents are asked to write the time their youngsters arrive and to comment on the "walk home" plan.

"San Francisco is one of the country's major target areas," Key explained, "and our schools are designated for housing evacuees from the City."

He said CD officials advise that all children get to their family units as quickly as possible in the event of an enemy attack. An atomic bomb, falling on San Francisco, would cover the Menlo Park area with radioactivity within 40 minutes.

Key explained that an Air Force-connected early warning system in Menlo Park's schools will give school authorities enough warning to get the children to their homes within that time.

The walk home drill is an exercise in such evacuation.

"Walk home drillls will be scheduled much as we schedule fire drills," Key said. "We want to establish a habit pattern for Civil Defense emergency."

Key said students have been practicing the dispersal pattern as far as the school gates and that monthly "take cover" drills have long been part of the school's schedule.

Only those students who are unable to walk home—because they live too far awaly or are physically handicapped—will be kept in the schools.

However, is it is raining at 1:30 p.m. on Thursday, the project will be postponed. Because of compli cated schedules involved in the project, this would mean a three-week delay in the drill.

The PTA Civil Defense coordinating council is made up of Mrs. Erwin Davidson, Hillview PTA; Mrs. Frauk Fullerwider, Laurel PTA; Mrs. Joseph Samson, Fremont PTA; Mrs. John Granger, Encinal PTA, and Mrs. Daniel Rectanus, Oak Knoll PTA.

Belangie, Bonde to Seek Re-election to Council

Plaisted Unsure Of Candidacy In April Voting

Two Menlo Park city councilmen have indicated they will run for re-election April 8 and a third reported he is still undecided, as filing of candidates' petitions opened today.

Councilman Michael L. Belangie, one-time mayor who was reappointed to the city's governing body last year, said he will be a candidate.

Councilman Ira Bond, a member for the council for the past three years, and a member of city planning and traffic safety commissions for several years before that, has already circulated his candidates' petition.

Councilman Guy Plaisted, a member of the council since 1955 and a chairman of the planning commission before that, is the one undecided incumbent.

There's plenty of time for a contest to develop since filing doesn't close until Feb. 13, according to sources at the city hall.

Belangie, owner and operator of Menlo Textiles, was appointed to replace the late councilman Charles P. Burgess, who died last June. Previously, he had served four years as a councilman and mayor. He resides at 428 Felton drive.

Bonde, who resides at 370 Nova lane, is associated with the Engfer Steel Co. in San Jose. In addition to civic affairs, he has been active in the Willow Residents' Association for the past several years.

Plaisted is an engineer with General Electric Co., and maintains offices in San Francisco. He resides with his wife and family at 1830 White Oak drive.

Three Atherton Councilmen Seek April Vote

All three Atherton town council incumbents whose terms expire this year have indicated they will run to succeed themselves in the April 8 municipal election, it was learned this week.

The three are Henry McMicking, 90 Almendral avenue; Richard C. Van Houten, 98 James avenue and John Licata, 282 Camino al Lago.

As in all city elections in the county, filing for candidates opens today and continues until Feb. 13.

February 13 is also the last date on which voters may register in time to participate in the election.

LIBRARY 'CIRCULATES'

IT'S A GOOD ONE—Menlo Park city councilmen last week got a preview of the area's new telephone directory, distribution of which will start Monday. The reason for the preview is that Menlo Park's municipal library, one of the newest and nicest public buildings in the area, will be featured on the cover of the 656-page book, which will serve Menlo Park, Atherton, East Palo Alto, Palo Alto, Stanford, Los Altos, Mountain View and Sunnyvale. Shown looking over the new cover illustration are, left to right, Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. manager for this area, Roy Maloney, Mayor R. Lawson and Councilman Michael L. Belangie.

Council Okays 'Stop-Gap' Parking Limit

Menlo Park City Council this week decided to enact a "stop gap" measure" to alleviate parking problems in the downtown area.

Meeting at a study session, the Council heard a presentation by Chamber of Commerce Vice President Jerry Jacobs who pointed out the serious need for more parking spaces in the shopping area, or regulations limiting parking time.

Jacobs, speaking also on behalf of Menlo Park retailers, referred specifically to the Camino Plaza while presenting his argument. He estimated that 106 of the 167 available parking spaces in the plaza were occupied each day by "dead head parkers," that is al-day parkers who are not shoppers. The majority of these parkers work in the office buildings, but some of them are occupied by commuter car pool autos, Jacobs explained.

Jacobs, on behalf of the Chamber of Commerce, recommended that the council adopt a resolution limiting parking in the plaza areas to two hours.

Such a limit could be put into effect when the parking problem becomes acute, Jacobs explained, and removed at other times.

Since the problem is most acute during the month of December, signs could be posted during that time limiting parking and removed afterwards permitting unlimited parking again.

Mayor William Lawson pointed out that, "the basic problem is to find more parking space." As more office buildings are built on Oak Grove avenue, shoppers will be denied more parking space. A resolution limiting parking, and thus forcing the all day parkers to go some place else, would serve only as a temporary solution.

The Mayor assured Chamber representatives that the council would act on the measure in the near future, and that the problem of a permanent solution would be turned over to the city administration for study.

Trustees Weigh Election

Menlo Park School District trustees this week began toying with the idea of placing a proposition to raise the district's permissive tax rate maximum.

Viewing projections of budget demands for the 1958-59 school year, they also opened informal consideration of whether or not some school building projects could not be accomplished on a "pay as you go" basis.

Both considerations may be submitted to voters at the May 20 school election.

The school board opened its deliberations as District Business Manager John C. Richert reported calculations which showed the district's budget would probably go up 10 percent next year over the current one; this would mean, he said, that the district's permissive tax rate maximum would have to be raised from its present $1.75 per $100 assessed valuation to $1.97.

(District taxpayers are currently paying a total actual tax rate of $2.145 per $100, with overriding taxes for retirement of state aid funds, recreation and retirement making up the difference above the permissive rate.—ed.)

Richert pointed out that the assessed valuation per child in the district is expected to rise above $15,000 next year, meaning the district will be eligible for only the minimum state "Average Daily Attendance" apportionments.

Richert said expenditures in the district have risen 10 percent a year, or more, for the past several years.

If next year's budget is 10 percent greater than this year's, he said, the district will have to expend $111,000 more next year than this; meaning a rise in expenditures from $1,107,344 to $1,218,000. To this, he said, should be added $50,000 in reserves, which would bring the total projected $1958-59 budget to $1,268,000.

GIVES FIGURES

At the present rate of valuation growth in the district and figuring carryover from this year's budget, the district can anticipate an income of $1,190,000 under the present tax rate," Richert declared.

"This leaves $78,000 to be raised from local taxes, meaning 22 cents added to the tax rate."

Trustee William Platt noted that a recent report by the Stanford University School of Education indicated the district could "squeak by" under the present permissive tax rate maximum for another year.

Richert explained that the assessed valuation behind each child in a district school is now $14,800. This is expected to go to $15,800 next year, he said, but cutbacks in state apportionments will mean the district will realize only about 40 cents on each $1 of the gain in assessed valuation, as far as total income is concerned.

Trustee Elwood Williams asked if there had ever been an effort to tie teachers' salaries to the cost of living.

He was told by Trustee Jim Black that such efforts have not been made.

"The idea of teachers' salaries," said Black, "is to give a proper raward for work well done. We aren't supposed to tie salaries to the district's budget, either."

SEES OTHER NEED

Trustee Platt pointed out that the $281,000 now held in bond building funds by the district is not enough to both acquire a

After Months of Haggling:

Permit Clears Way for Location Of Old Church on Crane Street

Russian Orthodox Greek Catholic Church congregation was this week issued a building permit which will allow them to lower the old Trinity Episcopal chapel onto foundations on its lot facing Crane street. The permit also calls for $10,000 worth of alterations to the building.

George Yourieff, Menlo Park contractor, took out the permit for the work, according to Building Inspector James D. Stieger. Work is to start this week, Stieger said he has been told.

The church is to be located facing the east side of the 1200 block of Crane street. Its final placement on the lot follows several months of haggling involving neighbors, the congregation, the city planning commission and the city council.

The new permanent foundation may be the last for the old, well-travelled chapel.

It was built in 1888 facing Encinal avenue near Laurel street; was moved in 1898 to Oak Grove avenue near Laurel street; moved in 1947 to Pine street near Ravenswood avenue and moved to its present location when bought from the Episcopalians late last year.

Stanford Village Student Shoots Himself in Jaw

A graduate student who lives in Stanford Village was this week recovering from an apparently self-inflicted gunshot wound. Police said the jaw bone of Donald J. Mungai, 24, was shattered when he turned a small-caliber rifle on himself as he lay in bed beside his sleeping wife.

Mungai had quit attending classes at Stanford's graduate school of business last week. He was apparently despondent over grades, his wife, Ida, told officers.

She said she was awakened at 5 a.m. Monday by the sound of the 22-caliber rifle's report.

The shot was also heard by a neighbor, officers said, who raced to the Mungai's apartment at 428-6 in the village. The neighbor called police, a doctor and an ambulance while the shot victim's wife tried to comfort him.

Police said Mungai had apparently placed the muzzle of the gun under his chin and pulled the trigger.

Attendants at Palo Alto hospital yesterday described Mungai's condition as "good."

Fuller Unhurt In 4-Car Smash

Laurence J. Fuller, 53, Las Lomitas School District superintendent, was the driver of one of four cars involved in a "rear end" stack up type collision at Middle avenue and El Camino Real ,police report.

All the cars were northbound on the highway.

Drivers of other cars involved were Karin E. Schmidt, 16, Menlo-Atherton High School student and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Schmidt of 98 Placida in Atherton; Walter M. Nunes, 723 Gilbert avenue and Lewis Alan Roberts of Palo Alto.

Nobody was hurt and all cars were driven from the scene.

MENLO-ATHERTON WINTER CONCERT

Menlo-Atherton's annual Winter Concert will be presented in "J" building on campus at 8:15 p.m. Saturday. The program will consist of presentations by the orchestra and band, the Choraliers, and the a capella choir.

Davis to Seek Re-election To Fire Board

George Davis, 200 Menlo Oaks drive, will be a candidate to succeed himself as a member of the Menlo Park Fire District board of commissioners, he said this week.

Davis, who is a sales engineer with Pacific Metals Co. with offices in San Francisco, has been a member of the board for one year. He was appointed to fill the unexpired term of C. Vernon Barker, who resigned when he moved to Mountain View.

No contest has developed for the board position, as of early this week. Closing date for filing for election is Feb. 6, however, so there is still time.

In the event a contest develops, voting will take place at fire stations on April 1.

If Davis is the only candidate to file, he will be appointed by the county board of supervisors.

Davis, a resident of the community for the past 20 years, resides with his wife and two children, a son and daughter.

Redwood City Man Seized on Roof Of Atherton Home

A Redwood City man, charged with prowling on private property in Atherton, this week was released from the county jail on $500 bail.

Arrested was Patrick J. Ryan, 46, of Pine street in Redwood City. He was apprehended by Atherton policemen while crawling on the roof of the home of Mrs. Lillian Eichler of 19 Irving avenue in the Lindenwood area.

Ryan, who feigned sleep when police called to him, claimed that he was just trying to see his girl friend, Mrs. Eichler's maid.

The maid denied that she knew Ryan or had ever seen him before.

Bethany Lutheran Dedication Slated

Dedication of the new Bethany Lutheran Church sanctuary will be held Sunday, March 16, at the church site at Avy and Cloud avenues, it was announced this week.

Date of the rites was set at a meeting of the congregation, held last Sunday evening, Pastor Orval Oswald reported.

Councilmen Plan More Study:

Chamber Backs Middle Ave. Site As City Delays Underpass Action

Discussion on location of an underpass at the Southern Pacific tracks was postponed by the Menlo Park City Council this week, until another study session. Referring to a study completed by Wilsey and Hamm, traffic engineers, Mayor William Lawson suggested that comment on the report be postponed so that each of the councilmen would have more time to thoroughly study the problem.

The report offers two solutions to congested traffic. One suggestion is to build an underpass at Willow road, and the other to build an underpass at Middle avenue.

Jerry Jacobs, speaking on behalf of the Chamber of Commerce, pointed out that an underpass at Willow road would cause a similar congestion to that which already exists at Ravenswood; that is, traffic would have to turn north or south on El Camino rather than passing across El Camino. Because of this, Jacobs said, the Chamber is in favor of an underpass at Middle, believing that it would serve the community better, regardless of any additional cost.

A. J. Giannotti, president of the Menlo Park Chamber of Commerce, added to Jacobs' comments by explaining that an underpass at Middle avenue would help to carry some of the traffic across the county. Although Middle avenue doesn't run all the way across, he added, it does run into roads which do, and thus would benefit any traffic so headed.

Councilman Michael Belangie pointed out that any decision by the council as to which underpass should be built would have to be submitted to the voters as a referendum, and thus the council should be very sure of their position before making a decision.

Mayor Lawson suggested that the councilmen study the report in detail and be prepared to discuss it fully at the next study meeting.

Permits Herald Building Spurt On Oak Grove Ave.

Issuance of a building permit for a new $55,000 office building apparently heralds the renewal of business building construction along the 600 block of Oak Grove avenue, Building Inspector James D. Steiger said this week.

The new office is but one of a series which may be started in the near future; Stieger pointed out that permits have also been taken out for the demolition of two old dwellings nearby.

The new office building will be in two units, each of which will have 25 feet of frontage on Oak Grove avenue and the city's Camino parking plaza, and a length of 121 feet. It will be at 671 Oak Grove. The units will be separated by a 12-foot "walk through" arcade.

Owner is Sunlite Homes, building concern owned by Mayor William R. Lawson.

The building is designed to have as few as four or as many as 16 offices, which will be suitable for medical, dental or general use, Steiger said. Outside walls of the single story structure will be of concrete block construction; those facing the arcade will be glass.

Buildings being torn down to make room for future development are at 655 and 657 Oak Grove avenue. Both are owned by John Chuck.

Chuck has not announced plans for future construction, seeking only the permit necessary to remove the existing structures at this time.

Firemen Flock To Fight $650 Atherton Blaze

Taking no chances, 36 Menlo Park Fire District firemen showed up at an Atherton residence which was reported afire Tuesday evening. Damage was held to an estimated $650, according to Chief George Carter.

The fire was reported from the John Broomhead residence at 157 Glenwood avenue at 6:47 p.m. Besides regular assignments sent front headquarters and number 6 stations, off-duty firemen who heard the alarm on home radios responded.

What happened, according to Chief Carter, was that children playing in the den had left a cardboard box on top of the floor furnace. Walls, floor and some furniture was damaged.

Parke-Davis Plant Bids to Be Opened Friday

Bids for construction of the new $500,000 Parke-Davis regional office and distribution center, to be built in Bohannon Industrial Park, will be opened Friday.

The building's plans were the subject of informal study by the Menlo Park planning commission Monday night. Commissioners indicated they would approve the drawings at their next formal meeting Feb. 3.

The Parke-Davis plant is to be developed facing the east side of Bayshore highway, north of the Flueblein company plant but south of Marsh road traffic interchange.

Building Inspector James D. Stieger said that the bids will be opened in San Francisco.

PRINTING WORK HONORED

NEW AWARD—Fred J. Bush, commercial printing manager for the Menlo Park Recorder, smiled as he hangs a new trophy in the newspaper's front office. The award, "for excellence in craftsmanship," was presented to the Recorder last week in judging of printing work entered in the Peninsula-wide contest of the Peninsula Graphic Arts Association to celebrate National Printing Week. The Recorder's award winning entry was the menu recently printed for the Red Cottage restaurant.

Sequoia Group Urges Bond Vote May 20

Sequoia High School District Citizens' Advisory Committee last week recommended that a $7,500,000-plus bond issue be placed on the ballot, at the time of the district's ragular annual election on May 20.

Exact amount to be called for in the bond issue election has not yet been set. Dr. Rex Turner, district superintendent, reports that the amount being sought would take care of high school district expansion needs for the next 10 years.

Terms of Trustees Ferris Miles and Dr. David Sears expire this year. So far, neither has indicated finally whether he plans to run.

Members of the advisory group said they felt a better voter turnout could be expected if the trustee and bond elections were combined.

The group made its recommendations at a regular business session, at which Avery Eppler was elected permanent chairman of the group, succeeding Max Gerfen, who resigned. The group also elected C. G. Uhlenberg, Redwood City accountant, as permanent treasurer.

The $7,500,000-plus figure is currently being worked out by architects, according to Dr. Turner. The money would be used for the purchase of two school sites, expansion of Woodside and Ravenswood schools to bring their capacities to 2000 students and construction of gymnasia at both schools, plus several smaller projects.

FREMONT SCHOOL PLANS ORIGINAL PLAY

Tryouts were started this week for a Fremont School Junior Theater production, which will be presented in March.

Name of the original play to be presented is "The End of the Rainbow," authored by Mrs. Albert C. Hammermann. It has places in its cast for children from first through sixth grade age, according to Fremont Principal Homer C. Alderman.

For Lower Rates:

Fire District Undecided on Order Of Priorities for Improvements

Menlo Park Fire District commissioners have not yet set up a "prority list" of capital outlay items to be purchased in the next year, but the agency is continuing to catch up on requirements for a lower insurance rate classification.

District Chief George Carter noted this week that the soon-to-be delivered 1000-gallon-per-minute pumping engine which the district has purchased is one of these items.

Other things asked by the Board of Fire Underwriters of the Pacific, after a survey maie last February, included fire alarm boxes in industrial and commercial areas, more firemen, and replacment of older trucks with inadequate pumping capacity.

More manpower was also seen as a major need.

The underwriters said that, if requirements are met, the district will be moved from "class 4" to "class 3."

"We now have a complement of 70 men in the district but the underwriters have asked that we have at least four men on every engine company," Chief Carter points out. "This would mean we'd need several more in order to fill their requirements."

"As for replacement of equipment, the engine which is due to be delivered is one which we need to replace smaller engines which have been in the district for several years."

The fire alarm boxes in commercial and industrial areas and at the schools "would be a definite step forward" in getting better insurance rates, the Chief concedes. It has not been assigned a place in the district's building program, however.

"Our budget can allow for some increase in manpower, and for equipment replacement. How soon we can get to the business of installing alarm boxes has yet to be figured."

GOOD USE

"We feel," the Chief went on, "that we are making the best possible use of our manpower.

"Not only do the firemen have to study the district and firefighting techniques when on duty; they have to report back to headquarters station every Monday night for drill.

"In addition, we have men attend classes in courses given by state industrial education instructors and other agencies. These include courses in such things as hydraulics, instructor training, administration, firefighting strategy and use of equipment."

The district has had periodic surveys by representatives of the Board of Fire Underwriters of the Pacific for the past several years.

DAVID H. BRODIE

Menloite Serves National Panel

David H. Brodie, CPA ,of 315 Cotton street, Menlo Park, has been reappointed to the local governmental accounting committee of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, it was announced today by the national professional organization.

Brodie, a partner in the accounting firm of Skinner & Hammond, is currently a member of council, the governing body of the institute.

A native of Scotland, Brodie was graduated from the Golden Gate College, San Francisco, with a BCS degree. In addition to his Institute activities, he is also a member of the board of managers at the Central Branch of the YMCA in San Francisco.

Remodelling Job At High School

Remodelling of coaches' offices at Menlo-Atherton High School was the major unscheduled maintenance job undertaken there during December, and cost the Sequoia High School District $204.75.

So reported Dr. Rex Turner, district superintendent, this week. He said other items attended to during the month included construction of bulletin boards, at a cost of $103.50; building a Dutch door, $50.25; construction of shop shelves at a cost of $12.60 and construction of locker bases at a cost of $12.60.

Miscellaneous building repairs and painting of stripes in the parking area accounted for a total of 69 hours of work.

School District Board Head 'Undecided'

James Black, chairman of the Menlo Park Elementary School District board of trustees, this week reported himself "still undecided" as to whether he will run for re-election to the board, at the May 20 school board election.

Kenneth Sayre, appointed to the board last year, said he "saw no reason why not" when asked if he would run for a complete three-year term.

Black, who resides at 1090 Creek drive, has been a member of the board for the past four years. Sayre, an investment broker with offices in Palo Alto and resident at 286 Park lane in Atherton, was appointed to the board last year, to fill unexpired term of Mrs. Phyllis Campbell, long-time board member who resigned at that time.

Hammett Revisits Menlo Park Area

Ray Hammett, former Menlo Park resident, revisited the city last week as a group of Kern county business leaders arrived in the county, to study the program of the San Mateo County Development Association.

Hammett, who was in the real estate business and who also was prominent in local music and little theater work, is currently manager of the Stockdale project of the Kern County Land Co.

Life Saving Class to Open At High School

The Menlo - Atherton High School pool will be the schoolroom of persons 16 years of age and over who wish to learn Senior Red Cross Life Saving in the first course of the new year.

Under the instructorship of Sam Lugonja, water safety instructor, classes will be held on Monday and Wednesday evenings from 7:30 to 9:30, beginning Feb. 3.

Water rescue and safety techniques and Red Cross approved methods of artificial respiration will be amphasized.

Anyone interested in taking the 17-hour Senior Life Saving course must be able to pass a preliminary swimming test and must register either at Southern San Mateo County Chapter, 3549 Middlefield road, Menlo Park, or Menlo-Atherton adult education office.

Beginning March 3, a 30-hour Water Safety Instructors' Course will be held under the sponsorship of the Southern San Mateo County Chapter on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings. This course is designed specifically for people 18 years of age and over who have definite plans of teaching in Red Cross swimming programs.

It qualifies them to pass beginning and intermediate swimmers as well as to pass junior and senior life savers. Participants must hold current Senior Life Saving cards and must register at the chapter house, EM 6-3851.

The pool at which the course will be taught is to be announced later.

ROBERT LEONARD

Menlo Man Gets New Appointment

Robert E. Leonard has been appointed vice president, eastern sales development of Foster & Kleiser Company, division of W. R. Grace & Co., according to an announcement by L. H. Odell, president of the outdoor advertising firm.

Leonard resides with his son and his mother at 30 Rondo way, Menlo Park. He began his career at Foster and Kleiser Company in 1946 and was formerly director of national sales development. Leonard, a graduate of the University of Southern California and member of Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity, is a former director of the San Francisco Advertising Club.

At present, he is an active member of the San Francisco Press an Union League Club and the University Club of Los Angeles.

NEW TRAFFIC ROUTE TO OPEN IN E.P.A.

Police Seek New Patrolman Replacement

Menlo Park police department is accepting applications of candidates for the position of police patrolman, Chief George Potter said this week. The successful candidate will replace a probationary officer who has been drafted, Chief Potter declared.

The department's complement consists of one chief, one lieutenant, three sergeants, two inspectors, 20 patrolmen and two clerks, Chief Potter asid. This complement is not being raised at the present time, but the department nevertheless desires to establish an eligibility list.

The job open offers starting pay of $384 and the maximum salary of $467 is reached in 3½ years. The job is a civil service position for which written and oral examinations will be given: a uniform allowance of $10 per month is given and workers have sick leave and retirement insurance benefits.

Life insurance and medical insurance are also features.

Applicants must be US citizens between 21 and 35 years of age, in good physical condition not less than 5' 9" in height or 155 pounds in weight, Chief Potter said.

AWOL Marine Is Siezed by Cops

An AWOL Marine whose parents reside in East Palo Alto Friday was collared by Sheriff's deputies, within an hour after he assertedly robbed, at gunpoint, a cleaning establishment in the unincorporated community.

Jailed was James C. Donahoo, who lived in a motel room at Capitol avenue and Bayshore highway.

Mrs. Betty Rose Krous, operator of the Betty Rose Cleaners at 2117 Capitol, said he entered her establishment at 1:20 p.m. Friday and asked for his wife's cleaning.

There was none there, Mrs. Krous told him.

Five minutes later he reappeared, pulled a .22-caliber pistol from his pocket, and ordered Mrs. Krous to open the till.

Loot was estimated at $85.

Acting on an anonymous tip, deputies captured him at his room.

Donahoo is AWOL from Camp Pendleton, according to officers.

Mrs. L. Bedell Heads Panel Here

Mrs. Leonard V. Bedell, of 811 Stanford avenue, has been named Menlo Partk town chairman for "Great Decisions . . . 1958."

The countywide organization is concerned with discussion of eight critical issues of U.S. foreign policy; discussions are to be held in several locations throughout the county during future weeks.

Full details on the program may be had by contacting Mrs. Bedell, at DA 2-1141.

Firemen Seeking Cause of Blaze

Menlo Park Fire District firemen are still investigating to find the cause of a fire which Saturday evening burned 70 feet of fence and damaged the outside wall of a guest cottage at the Art Fairey residence, 122 Watkins avenue.

The smoke-chasers, called to that address at 5:57 p.m., said damage amounted to an estimated $500.

New Hardware Store Opens for Business

Scheduled to open its doors for the first time for business at 5:30 p.m. today is Menlo Park's newest business enterprise, Oak Grove Hardware and Lawnmower Shop at 565 Oak Grove avenue, directly across from the postoffice.

Besides a complete line of hardware and lawnmowers, the store will offer sharpening service, using the latest equipment, for lawnmowers, cutlery, scissors and hand saws.

Partners in the operation are Albert A. Krajcar and Elio "Lee" Venturi.

Krajcar and his wife Rose Marie currently are residents of Mountain View. The couple have a 10-month-old daughter, Kristina Marie. Venturi, a native San Franciscan, resides with his wife Maryann and their baby daughter Angela Marie in the East Bay, but plans to move to Menlo Park soon, he says.

Police Charge Trespass In Beer Garden

Frederic Teague, 28, 593 Cotton street, is to appear in municipal court to face charges of trespassing and vagrancy next Tuesday, having been released from the county jail after his arrest here early Saturday.

Teague, according to officers, was found inside the Oasis beer garden, 241 El Camino Real, at 3 a.m. He said he had re-entered the building through a window he knew to be open, after leaving when the establishment closed at 2 a.m.

The suspect said he had spent the evening drinking beer, and after the closing hour had eaten at a near-by drive-in restaurant. He explained that, on returning to his car, he felt himself sufficiently intoxicated to make driving a hazard.

Since he is sometimes employed as a part-time bartender at the Oasis, he knew of the open window, he told officers.

The police added that his reentry was heard by the tenant of an apartment near the beer garden, who called Sergeant Frank Roach and Patrolman Clarence Pfeffer to the scene.

An original charge of burglary was reduced; Teague posted bail of $1000.

Presbyterians To Map Budget

Tonight the congregation of Menlo Park Presbyterian Church reconvenes in annual meeting to select the members of the pastor's nominating committee.

Following this action, the members will constitute themselves as the corporation and elect new trustees for the coming year and present the 1958 church budget for consideration and approval.

MINOR CRASH HERE

Autos operated by Linda Matson, 16, of 232 Oak Grove avenue in Atherton and Geraldine L. Inman, 45, of Palo Alto, collided at the Ravenswood avenue entrance to the Menlo Park library last Thursday evening, as Miss Matson attempted a left turn into the street and Mrs. Inman failed to stop.

CUB SCOUT UNIT TOURS RECORDER

Five members of Den 8, Menlo Park Cub Scout Pack 39, last week visited the Recorder office. Boys who made the tour were Jimmy Flippen, denner, and his assistant, Byron Blois; other members of the unit present were Greg Piers, Michael Kennedy and Peter Costello. Tom Kennedy went along as guest. The boys were accompanied by Mrs. Eugene K. Kennedy, den mother.

Lawson Cites Parking, Traffic As First Problems

Parking, traffic, annexations and capital improvements: These are the fields in which Menlo Park must take action now if it is to continue to hold and improve the reputation it has.

This was the message given by Mayor William R. Lawson to members of the Chamber of Commerce of Menlo Park in their monthly luncheon meeting Monday at Ramor Oaks restaurant.

"We in Menlo Park are inclined to overlook this community's world-wide reputation," Lawson declared. He cited recent establishment here of the western headquarters of the Chamber of Commerce of the U.S. as an indication of the attractions of Menlo Park to outsiders. He also pointed to Stanford Research Institute, the famous firms in the Linfield Oaks zone and the annexation of Bohannon Industrial Park as further examples.

CAN'T REST NOW

"But we can't rest on our laurels," Lawson continued. He pointed to anticipated growth to the west, on the Sharon estate and Stanford University land, as developments that can mean a great deal to the city "if we plan intelligently now."

Decision on the best location for an underpass at the railroad tracks is one planning problem the city government hopes to solve soon, Lawson indicated. This, together with other capital improvements such as new parking facilities, a new police station, a youth center and other recreational installations constitute the council's major program now.

While it was once thought that all of these might be financed by a bond issue to be proposed at the same time as the municipal elections in April, Lawson indicated that this is now unlikely.

The recent report on a traffic study to determine location for the underpass came too late and was not sufficiently definite in its recommendations, he said. Furthermore, the costs indicated in the report are almost double original rough estimates.

SEE SALES TAX AID

Lawson said that the council may submit a bond issue to finance the underpass later in the year, but that present thinking is to handle the other capital items on a "pay-as-you-go" basis with the aid of sales tax receipts.

It is hoped, too, that the sales tax can be used to some extent to fund the underpass bonds to reduce their impact on the city's property tax rate.

Another problem that the city must face, Lawson declared, is that of gradually annexing to the city those unincorporated "islands" that now exist within or almost surrounded by Menlo Park. These areas, "which derive direct benefits from our city," he declared, "have a responsibility to carry their share of the cost."

AS DRIVE CLIMAX NEARS

AS "MARCH" NEARS CLIMAX—As more than 10,000 south county mothers prepared to march on the evening of Jan. 31, in the annual climax of the March of Dimes campaign for funds to fight polio, Allstate Insurance company office workers here chipped in this week, to aid a victim of the dread crippler. Shown is Mrs. Inga Acebo, of Belmont, a polio victim being presented a $300 check by Gaynor Stephens, former Ice Follies skating star and now an Allstate employee. Watching are T. J. Halinan, county drive chairman and Mimi Acebo, 3½. Meanwhile in Redwood City last week, drive leaders met to confer on the Jan. 31 portion of the drive, which will be conducted from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. that evening. Several areas of the south county are still short of volunteers; those wishing to aid the cause should call Mrs. Louise Bullard, EM 6-1092, evenings, for further information.

SJS to Confer Degrees on 11 Area Residents

Eight Menlo Park residents as well as one from Atherton and two from Woodside will be among those receiving degrees at San Jose State College fall semester commencement exercises tomorrow in San Jose.

The exercises will commence at 2:30 p.m. at the men's gym at the college, San Carlos and Fourth streets.

The Atherton resident on whom a degree will be conferred will be Margot V. O'Donoghue, who will receive a bachelor of arts degree with kindergarten-primary credential.

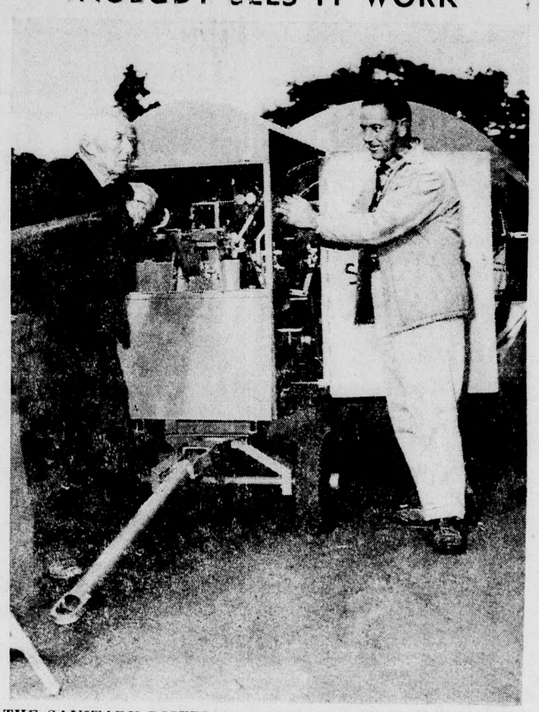

From Woodside, graduates will include Patricia Conine, who is to receive a BA with general elementary credential and James E. Moore, BA in biological science.

Menlo Park candidates for graduation and the degrees they are scheduled to receive include:

Thomas W. Chaney, BA, business administration; Robert E. Cooper, BA, business administration; Frederick J. Durrant, BA, business administration; Herbert M. Effron, BA, chemistry; John L. McDowell, BA, business administration.

C. Thomas Rhoads, general elementary credential; Robert A. Sims, BA, business administration; Jeanne L. Smith, BE with general elementary credential.

Turned Loose:

Police Still Looking for Suspects In 'Wild Truck Run on Johnson St.

Police are still looking for auto thieves who early Tuesday turned a late model pickup truck down a Menlo Park street, put it in gear and pulled out the throttle, then jumped.

The truck came to rest after careening, pilotless, through five front yards. It grazed the front of one house, threw a fence post through the wall of the dwelling, knocked over an apple tree, a mail box, a flagpole and several shrubs before stopping against a garage.

The crash created such noise and disorder that residents thought an airplane had crashed, and called the fire department before the police.

The 1957 truck had been stolen some time after 8 p.m. Monday from a parking lot in Palo Alto.

At 12:45 a.m. Tuesday, firemen and police were called to the Edward I. Colombo home at 1378 Johnson street, where the vehicle had stopped. Officer James Donohue said the garage and surrounding area were "full of smoke"—the result, he said, of the fact that the car's engine had kept running for several minutes after the truck hit.

The vehicle had stopped with such violence, he said, that it was impossible to open the doors and shut off the engine for several minutes.

The truck had been left by its former occupant at least 325 feet down south of Colombo's, police said. It left the street at that point; after crossing three yards it got to the property of the Rev. Dr. Floyd W. Barr, assistant pastor of the Menlo Park Presbyterian Church.

It was here that it hit a wooden fence, knocking it down and hurling one of the posts through the wall.

The truck then grazed off Dr. Barr's house and hit Colombo's garage.

The truck was owned by George S. Bishop, 220 Emerson street in Palo Alto. He said he had parked it at 8 p.m. in an offstreet lot a block from his house, locked one door, hid the key under the seat, and covered the truck with a tarpaulin.

He didn't know it was missing until called by Menlo Park police, he said.

Police said the escapade was apparently the work of juveniles, but that none were seen leaving the scene of the accident.

Second Remedial Reading Mentor Hired by Schools

A remedial reading specialist, Mrs. Barbara Doolin of 2170 Gordon avenue, has been appointed to the staff of the Menlo Park Elementary Schools, the school board announced at its meeting early this month.

She is the second such specialist to be hired by the district.

Mrs. Doolin taught first grade at Encinal from 1954 through 1956 and has been on a leave of absence since then.

She is a graduate of San Jose State College and is doing graduate work in remedial reading in the education department at Stanford.

Mrs. Doolin will spend three days each week at Fremont school through February, Superintendent Dr. Melville Homfeld said, and may then also teach at Encinal and Laurel.

The classes at Laurel are small enough so that a special remedial reading teacher may be unnecessary, he explained.

MP LIBRARY RECEIVES GIFT OF N.Y. TIMES

Menlo Park library is the recipient of a subscription to the daily New York Times, the gift of Mrs. Madeline Smyth of 434 Seale avenue in Palo Alto. The file of copies of the Times, described by some as the most complete available international newspaper, will be available in the library's periodical room, according to Librarian Phil Morales.

6 TB Cases Found Here in Month

Six cases of tuberculosis were reported in Menlo Park during December, the regular monthly report of the San Mateo County Department of Health and Welfare said this week. Two cases of the disease were also found in unincorporated areas near the city.

Two cases of gonorrhea were also isolated in the city, as well as separate cases of hepatitis and brucellosis.

An unspecified number of cases of mumps were also found here.

Braille Course Opened by RC

The current class in the transcription of Braille at the Southern San Mateo County Chapter, American Red Cross, has vacancies for more students.

Local women with a desire to serve their community in a purposeful way are urged to consider learning this priceless skill, which opens the doors to understanding to many sightless children in California schools.

Jointly sponsored by the Red Cross and the 17th District PTA, the class is held each Wednesday from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. under the guidance of Mrs. G. J. Sirex of San Carlos, at the chapter house, 3540 Middlefield road, in Menlo Park.

Anyone interested in enrolling in current Braille class is urged by Mrs. Hobart J. Ehman, Red Cross chairman of Braille, to contact the chapter, EM 6-3851 .

Each year, California farmers buy about $70 million worth of petroleum products.

Metals Course To Open At Adult School

Stuart Corey of the Menlo-Atherton Industrial Arts Department will join the staff of Adult school to instruct a class in metal work on Thursday evenings, according to Willard Bradley, principal.

The course will offer an opportunity to work with wrought iron, copper and brass. Equipment for forming, forging, notching and sawing will be available. Both ovy-acetylene and are welding will be employed.

Open both to beginners and advanced students, instruction will include simple fabrication of wrought iron furniture, ornamental iron work, sheet metal projects, and decorative pierced metal signs using the new 16-inch Do-All metal cutting band saw.

Entries Sought For Baby Contest

San Mateo county parents who have children between ages of one month and seven years were this week invited to register them for a "Better Baby Show," the latter being sponsored by the VFW auxiliary in this area.

The program will include a beauty show, set for Feb. 16 at the Veterans' Memorial Theater in Redwood City. At that time a "Miss San Mateo County" and "Master San Mateo County" will be held at.

A "coronation" for the young "rulers" wil be conducted Feb. 26 at that time also, and a wide variety of ribons and prizes will be handed out.

Judging will be in several things, ranging from personality to color of eyes.

Registrations will start at Draeger's, Menlo avenue and University drive, on Jan. 27, between 11 a.m. and 5 p.m.

The program is being conducted as a fundraiser for the VFW auxiliary's Veterans' Hospital and Relief funds.

Eben Hubbard Gets New Rank

The United States Air Force announced earlier this week the promotion of First Lieutenant Eben R. Hubbard, 31, to the rank of captain. Captain Hubbard's mother, Mrs. W. B. Peard, resides at 505 Bay road, Menlo Park.

Captain Hubbard is currently serving as a co-pilot of a B-47 Stratojet medium bomber of the 100th Bombardment Wing, Pease AFB, New Hampshire, a base of the Eighth Air Force and the Strategic Air Command.

Released from a year's active duty in 1946, Captain Hubbard attended San Jose State College for the following three years.

From 1950 to 1952 he performed flight operations for the Pan American World Airways at San Francisco.

Recalled in 1952, Captain Hubbard served at Mather AFB, California, until his transfer to Pease AFB last year.

school site and build a school.

He said that if the permissive rate maximum is raised enough, the district could replace the 10 substandard rooms at Laurel school before a present city-Stanford University agreement forces abandonment of the old hospital wards in 1965.

Not only that, he said he felt the district should come up with some "concrete recommendations" as to alternatives for meeting classroom overloads projected for 1958-59.

"As I see it,' Platt declared, "there are four ways we can deal with this overload: We can go to double sessions; we can erect or buy temporary facilities to be put up on present school grounds; we can rent temporary facilities, although this is the most expensive alternative of all, or we can overload rooms, but provide a larger number of special subject consultants, clerical help and the like so that teachers themselves are not overloaded."

Platt said the latter alternative has not yet been explored. He asked that the district explore it and report back.

He added that he did not feel that "dollars per student instructional costs" should be lowered.

The trustees agreed to seek advice of the district citizens' council as to whether or not to seek the higher permissive rate at the May election.

The $1.75 rate was adopted four years ago and is due to lapse in 1959. At that time the district's rate will drop to 90 cents per $100 unles a new maximum is adopted.

As We See It:

Residents of Menlo Park Have Blessings to Count

In his opening remarks before the Chamber of Commerce luncheon Monday, Mayor William R. Lawson pointed it out:

"We in Menlo Park are inclined to overlook this community's worldwide reputation," he said.

Lawson is right. We who live here — and most of us have come from somewhere else — tend to forget why we came. Having arrived and settled down, we soon lose sight of the forest for the trees. Little personal vexations occupy our minds, and we forget that Menlo Park is not "just any old town," that we enjoy here an almost unique opportunity for pleasant living.

Others — people in far-away places — have not forgotten. They have heard about this community and they want to come here to enjoy these things we take for granted.

Why Are Our Values High?

Why is it that a good home in Menlo Park costs more than a similar home elsewhere on the Peninsula? It is because outsiders realize what we have here; they want to come here, and their competitive desires keep property values high.

Why is it that the David Bohannon organization wanted to annex its industrial park to the city? It is because the combined efforts of a benevolent Nature, of pure luck and of human vision and foresight have created here a community whose name means something and whose reputation enhances the value of the land they wish to develop.

Present would-be developers of the Sharon estate realize these things. That is why they, too, indicate they want their land to be within the city limits of Menlo Park.

This outside appreciation of our community spurs us once again to take stock, to review our blessings, to renew our understanding of present good fortune and faith in the future . . . before we sell ourselves short.

Nature Started It Right

We speak of Nature, of luck and of human vision.

Look, first, at what Nature has done for us. We have here a climate unsurpassed. At lunch in our patios, we read of blizzards in the East; soon, while wearing the same suit, we will read of heat waves. Farther up the Peninsula, it is windier and colder; farther south, it is hotter. Across the Golden Gate, it's often damp; across the East Bay hills, it's often dry. Here, with the bay on one side, high hills on the other, we live in natural air-conditioned comfort.

Look, too, at the natural beauty of our setting. For human ganglia jangled by a hard day's work, we know of no better tonic than a sunset behind the Coast range or the outline of one of our oaks, expressive of strength and stability.

And then it is Nature's gift to this community that we have available here the broadest stretch of flat and gently rolling land between the mountains and the bay, suitable for easy development, of any mid-Peninsula area.

Luck Had a Hand In It

When we speak of our luck, we refer to results of human endeavor that have benefitted Menlo Park but over which its residents have had no control. Such are the advantages of our location next door to Stanford University on one side and within easy range of San Francisco on the other.

It's just by luck that Leland Stanford acquired his great domain where he did and that he founded there one of the great educational institutions of the West. It's just by luck that the tip of our peninsula offered the ideal site for a great city and that men have created there a cosmopolitan center the world admires.

And, too, it was just by luck that the great estates of the wealthy here blocked development until recent years, when men were ready to build Menlo Park, with vision and control, to the best utilization of its natural advantages.

Intelligence Played a Part

The vision and ability of intelligent men are the third great factor that has made Menlo Park what it is today. The blessings of Nature and our lucky location attracted good residents here, men and women of unusual intelligence, ability and appreciation for the good things of life.

These are the men and women who guided the growth of this community, who gave it good schools, efficient fire protection, honest and forward-looking city government.

It wasn't easy to control and to plan the growth of a town from 3200 in 1940 to 25,000 today. To maintain its quality in the face of such mushroom growth would have been a feat of merit; to improve it as it grew was almost superhuman. Judicious zoning and pioneering foresight did the trick.

Control of residential development has produced a pattern of living that enhances as well as utilizes the natural beauty of the land. The city's parking plazas encouraged growth of our sound and attractive downtown shopping district. Creation of the city's administrative-professional zone attracted such "industries" as Sunset Magazine and the other outstanding firms established here. The zone, plus our "luck" in being next to Stanford, influenced location of Stanford Research Institute in our midst.

These are the things Menlo Park is famous for: good climate, good luck, good people, good living and good government. Our reputation is strong and it is spreading.

These things we have, and we can keep them if we do not overlook our blessings and if we plan and work together to preserve and to promote them.

TELLS US:

Mrs. Elizabeth Bruggemeyer's fifth grade classroom at Encinal school may look like an arsenal for rock-throwers, but it isn't, reports Principal Ina Porter.

The pupils have just been bringing their rock collections to school.

Some of the rocks are pretty plain, but some, she says, have been identified as semi-precious.

They aren't the kind of rocks that are thrown. They were brought in and placed in the classroom with great care.

Construction of the Parke-Davis pharmaceutical's building in Bohannon Industrial park will complete a nice series of associated businesses.

At the southern end of the subdivision is the Smirnoff vodka plant. Next to it is to be a plant manufacturing Calso water. The Parke-Davis plant will be the next one north.

Wags who are watching the development say that patrons of home industry can start a sort of "off the grounds" tour with vodka mixed with or followed by Calso, and then get some aspirin from the firm next door.

If the party gets too rough, they may have to skip their allegiance to the Johnson & Johnson plant across Bayshore highway, and get a band-aid.

At least one Menlo Park capitalist is as concerned about his daily mail delivery as a Montgomery street financier is about his stock quotations.

Postmaster Harry B. Morey found this out recently when he received the following epistle:

"Dear Sir:

"I receive my mail late in the day and I am wondering if the carrier couldn't turn his bag around every other month or so, and start from the back end.

"The reason is, I play the horses and I got most of my information by mail. If it comes too late in the day, it is of no use because the races are already being run."

Postmaster Morey said he figures this shows how important the mail really is.

He declined to release the postal patron's name.

Tuesday, Menlo College elected its second semester slate of officers. The College, though, seemed to have difficulty in making up its mind. Many of the election races ended in ties and will have to be run off at a later date.

Definitely in office are Harry How, re-elected Student Body vice-president; Austen Lauw-Zecha, Student Body secretary; and Scotty May, re-elected Business Manager. Mike Manchester, former secretary, and Bruce McKimmens are tied for the presidency.

The freshmen chose Gary Giannini for vice-president. The presidency has a three way tie between Rick Rainalter, Dave Stein, and Henry Castellanos.

The sophomores too were only able to decide on a vice-president. He is John Quigly, of Redwood City. Charlie Kike and Ken Mundt are still in the running for the presidency.

Municipal Report:

Questions of Philosophy Play Important Part in Government

Whether or not revenues from the city's sales tax should be used for projects which benefit only special small groups in the community was pretty well decided last week.

It was decided, at least on the philosophical level, by Mayor William R. Lawson. Occasion was his answer to a protest from one property owner that, "sales tax funds shouldn't be used to buy commuter parking spaces; the commuters are only a single small group."

"I don't see how you can avoid benefitting small, special groups, no matter what you do in city government," observed the mayor.

"Most people hardly ever have fires at their homes, so what do they need a fire department for? The same is true of police protection.

"If you aren't a small child who swings and slides, you don't need a playground and if you don't swim, you don't need a municipal swimming pool."

All of these things—and a city's supposed to supply all of them—have to be paid for by taxes levied at the general public, no matter who uses how much of what government service.

Other city councilmen apparently feel the same way as the mayor. Following the hearing of a couple of written protests as well as a couple of expressions of encouragement, they voted unanimously to purchase a lot which, when paved and lined, will accommodate 37 cars owned by all-day parkers.

They could have made it 38 cars but decided to retain an oak tree on the property which they purchased, a 125-by-90 foot lot across Merrill street from the Southern Pacific depot.

On the philosophical level, too, the councilmen reiterated what the money from the sales tax will be used for. Sixty per cent of the revenue is to be used for "capital improvements;" the other 40 per cent is to be put into the general fund so that property taxes can be reduced.

How the 60 per cent will be spread around hasn't been decided yet.

Councilmen admitted, last week, that the need to purchase offstreet parking was urgent, because land is rapidly being used up. But while they jumped at the opportunity to buy the Merrill street lot, they decided to give further study to a proposal that they buy another, 20-car space between Derry lane and the railroad tracks.

There's the possibility, they apparently felt, that such a purchase might lower the available funds to a point where the city can't develop park areas in the Willows and the Belle Haven areas as rapidly as they'd like to.

And the 20-car parking space, offered for sale at a price of $15,500 by owner Ed Derry, is in an area reserved for a street extension.

This poses another problem: Should the city buy the land now, use it for parking until Merrill street is extended through to Encinal avenue, and then change the parking area to a street right-of-way?

Or should it just let things go as they have been, picking up a little more offstreet parking here and there as convenient and also pecking away at provisions of the city's master plan?

These are questions, largely, of finance. But they're questions of philosophy, too.

Walter:

IN SERVICE

Clad in chef's cap and apron, Walter the Weathermouse achieved an almost formal air as he approached us politely and handed us an engraved invitation to dinner.

We were interested.

"Tell us, Walter," we inquired, "do you intend to serve oysters?"

"Nope," replied the rodent. "At least, I don't expect to.

"After all, what would a person say if an oyster sat down at his table, and asked to be served?"

Postmaster Muses:

'Wizard of Menlo Park' Never Did Get Mail Here

Time was, Postmaster Harry B. Morey mused this week, when the postoffice here used to get letters address to "The Wizard of Menlo Park."

Letters still arrive here that are addressed to "route one" or "route two", although such designations dropped out of use, as far as downtown Menlo Park is concerned, more than 15 years ago.

And besides these, the postoffice every day finds itself with a couple of envelopes either so badly addressed that the penmanship can't be deciphered, or so incompletely addressed they can't be forwarded either in or out of the city.

The postmaster's musings were touched off by the realization that postal patrons don't seem to be getting more careful, as the years go by. The mis-addressed and otherwise undelivered mail continues to be received, in spite of the fact that many patrons have probably been disappointed several times during the years, because their own mail has gone astray or been delayed.

"The Wizard of Menlo Park" was, of course, Thomas A. Edison, who died more than a quarter of a century ago. He didn't live in Menlo Park, California, but in New Jersey.

There are six Menlo Parks in the United States and people from all over the country used to write to Edison by his nickname; small wonder that some of the letters got to the wrong Menlo Park.

The "route one" and "route two' type of designations continue to be received for delivery to Menlo Park residents, from correspondents who are apparently too lazy to up-date their lists of recipients.

HARD TO FIND

Some of the recipients are still residents at the homes which used to be on the route designation and some of the older postmen know the new addresses, Morey explains. But in most cases it means the department's workers have to go through their postal directory to find out the new address.

This slows up mail delivery.

Menlo Park residents may get into the habit of referring to San Francisco as the "City," but it's not a good idea to address letters that way, the postmaster advises. There are lots of cities. Many have duplicate street names.

"If we have to send out a letter addressed to Geary or Market or Brannan street in 'The City' we usually know which city is intended," Morey continues. "But in cases where the street name is a number, we can never be sure."

"After all, the North Fair Oaks area has streets with number designations too."

When mail from elsewhere arrives at the postoffice here in spite of faulty addressing, the department usually tries to figure out a sensible place to send it. Thurs letters addressed to the 'Menlo Park Weather Bureau" usually get to the Chamber of Commerce and letters to the "Atherton Newspaper" usually find their way to the Recorder office.

The big problem in both incoming and outgoing mail continues to be penmanship, however, Morey says.

Sometimes it's impossible to decipher the addressee's name, or street name, or both. Sometimes letters are sent to Menlo Park, California, because the abbreviation of the state's name was not readable.

SEEK CLUES

Some times, everything else can be figured out except the numbers in the address. In such cases, the mail can usually be sent on, but this necessitates delay and unnecessary work.

The postmen have another problem, according to Morey. That's finding house and apartment number numbers.

"About the worst offenders we have in this category are the apartment dwellers who don't put their names or apartment numbers on their mail boxes," Morey says, "but even owners of single family dwellings sometimes fail to get a name or number in a visible spot on the house or mail box."

He went on to explain that, in the case of rural route-type boxes, either the name or house number will do; both are not necessary.

30 Years Ago:

City's 1st Judge, Police Chief Were Appointed

The files of the Menlo Park Recorder reveal that, 30 years ago this week, the following items, here reproduced exactly as first published, were news in the young community:

January 27, 1928:

"Following the reading and adoption of the minutes at the meeting of the City Council last Tuesday night . . . a resolution appointing Lawrence H. Cook city judge and Thomas Furman as Chief of Police was read and adopted.

"Mayor Blake administered the oath of office to Chief of Police Thomas Furman and after pinning the star on his breast introluced him to the members of the City Council and to the citizens present in a few well chosen words, thus giving Menlo Park its first police force . . ."

And 10 Years Ago:

1st City Plaza Being Graded

"Menlo avenue was paved this week and side streets off Menlo avenue were being paved as Menlo Park's biggest improvement project in years continues to progress.

"The new center-of-the-block parking plaza was being graded, as were alleys in the blocks between Santa Cruz avenue and Menlo avenue."

NEW SUBDIVISIONS WERE APPROVED

"Two subdivision maps were approved by the Menlo Park Planning Commission Monday night.

"Approval was given to subdivision of 32 acres between Santa Cruz avenue and Middle avenue, west of Arbor road. The land is owned by Robert A. McNeil of Atherton. Fred Baldocchi, Redwood City Realtor, plans to build 105 homes in the area.

"The planners also OK'd creation of 10 homesites along Vine street as an addition to Jack de Bell's new Oakdale Manor subdivision."

OBITUARIES

Miss Pauline Spires

Remains of Mrs. Pauline Gertrude Spires, a Menlo Park resident for the past five years, were sent to her former home at Lancaster, Ohio, for interment last week. Miss Spires, who had operated the Angelus Catholic art and religious gift shop at 1130 University drive, died Jan. 14 at Palo Alto Hospital after a short illness.

A native of Lancaster, Miss Spires was 54 years old at the time of passing. She is survived by five brothers, all of whom reside in that area.

She had served with the army in a business capacity during World War II.

Coming to Menlo Park, she had made her home at 850 Live Oak avenue.

Johnston and Tinney Colonial Chapel was in charge of arrangements.

D. P. McKelvey

Donald Paul McKelvey, retired Stanford professor, died early Tuesday at a Monterey peninsula hospital, the victim of a sudden heart attack. He was manager of the Menlo Plaza shops building at Santa Cruz avenue and Chestnut street here, for the past five years.

McKelvey, who would have been 50 on Feb. 16, had been active since his retirement as an assistant professor of speech and drama, in property management here, in Palo Alto, Fresno and in Monterey.

His home, following his retirement, was on Ridgewood road in Monterey, where he was active in civic affairs.

McKelvey was a graduate of the University of California at Los Angeles, class of 1930, and subsequently received his doctorate at the University of Wisconsin.

He retired after serving on Stanford's faculty, in 1952.

He is survived by his wife, Janet, and three children: Richard Upjohn McKelvey, a student at Humboldt State College; Janet Ann McKelvey, now attending Whitman College in Walla Walla and Ellen Elizabeth McKelvey, a student at Carmel High School. He is also survived by a brother, Raymond Goss McKelvey of Pasadena, and two nieces.

He was a native of Los Angeles.

Funeral services were being scheduled at the Paul mortuary in Pacific Grove.

At Kansas U.

Two Menlo Park students are among the 9225 attending the University of Kansas, it was reported from the Yawrence, Kas., institution.

The two are Thomas G. Gore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gore of 1420 Bay Laurel drive, who was admitted as a freshman this year and David G. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Smith of 1055 Mallet court.

County Comment:

Election Year Starts Off with Indications of Lots of Races

By FLOYD M. McCUE
Editor and Publisher, Redwood City Star-Advertiser

Last week when we guessed that the announced retirement of Supervisor Martin A. Poss appeared to be the only official who did not plan to seek office in 1958, we were about as wrong as we could be.

Before the ink could dry on the first press run, O. B. Hempstead, the assessor, announced that he planned to retire—and as soon as possible, thus throwing a second county position into a free-for-all. His announcement came as a surprise and again it didn't, if you know what we mean.

It seems that Hempstead had planned to retire at the close of 1957, but his chief assistant suffered a heart attack and the assessor agreed to carry on. In fact it was thought he had been talked into serving out his full term.

We can imagine the board of supervisors did not want the task of naming a successor right at the start of what promises to be one of the hottest campaigns in years. If the board follows its usual custom, it will name a new assessor from the present staff.

The pressure is really great on board members, we hear through the grapevine, for the appointment to the job, which in the new term starting next year likely will pay about $12,000.

Friends of this and that person seeking the job are applying the pressure.

Apparently it will do little good however, for the idea of elevating the chief assistant or someone high in the department has proved popular both inside and outside the courthouse. One must agree that this plan assures the county of an experienced man on the job, and it also gives the appointee a chance to run in the primary as an incumbent, which in itself, is worth thousands of votes.

We may have the same kind of luck again in our predicting, and the new selection could be announced any day. Hempstead has made it clear he wants to get out as soon as possible and the board has no alternative but to make a selection.

With the pressure on resulting from last year's grand jury charges, you can bet there will be some hotly contested positions. "Everyone" will be out to gain a seat on the powerful board of supervisors. The assessor's job is one of the better paying and already we hear the names of many "qualified" men.

Many of them come from the north end of the county where antagonism has built up against the courthouse officials in general.

In the face of this apparent strong opposition, will the board come through with a tax reduction in 1958?

It happens quite often in the big election years, you know, and we may be "favored" this year. The happy thought has little foundation, however. Already plans are in the hopper to start building up the construction budget again so work can start on the new administration building.

The bite for the next fiscal year could be anywhere from a half to a million dollars.

The some 1400 employees will be wanting wage boosts in spite of the Kroeger report which called for holding the line in many positions. It would be an entirely different story if the department heads didn't ask for hundreds of new employees, which adds to the total bill for sure.

The taxpayers' bite for the double pension program will go up with the wage increases. Already the take in tax money is over a half million yearly for this purpose.

Add to these the probable opening of a new branch superior court in South San Francisco and you can see that the supervisors face an almost impossible task in even holding the line.

San Mateo county probably has one of the lowest bonding loads in the state for a county of near comparative size. The pay-as-you-go plan has worked well, and the board will continue it, undoubtedly because the members are fully aware of the fact that voters are not about to add any new taxes at this time.

The proposal to submit a highway building bond program, whether it's five million to start or 20-30 million for the over-all job matters little. The tax-paying public, from the big industry to the small home owner, is looking for relief, not new taxes.

It is true that the county cannot keep up with the needs through allocations of state gas tax funds. The new freeways needed from the bay to the coast-side are apparent in every section of the county.

Would Menlo Park residents, for instance, vote for a highway bond plan if the initial program called for freeways in Daly City or San Bruno, Sounds selfish, but the entire program will have to be included to entice voters of all areas into stamping a ballot yes.

Whatever the board desides on the proposed bond election, we're afraid the need is still not apparent to all residents. They are more interested in fulfilling their school needs now, and as everyone knows, they are great and terrifically costly.

MEASURING RESULTS

Bocha Ball Experts Match Talents on Menlo Park Court

A rousing game of bocha ball is often the Sunday afternoon sport of Italian-Americans in Menlo Park. Using the four courts at the Italian-American club on Oak lane, the descendants of the "old country" are usually found on a sunny weekend afternoon divided in teams of two or three participating in a sport which for many decades has been a favorite pastime of Italians everywhere.

Italian-Americans in the area probably have been organized in some way other ever since the Nabob days, according to Toni Cincera of University drive, an avid bocha ball player, but in 1931 they really got together when they moved into their new club house on Oak lane. And with this move, the bocha ball activity of the Italian-Americans greatly increased, for beside the new building were four bocha ball courts.

The Italian game of bocha ball originated in England sometime in the 13th century where it was first known as the game of bowls. When first played, bowls was outlawed by both the king and parliament as they considered it a dangerous competition for archery. Proficiency in archery during the days of King Edward III was highly important for battles, but even after the invention of gun powder and rifles, bowls was frowned upon and it was several centuries before it was a fully accepted recreation.

Just how and when the game of bowls spread to Europe is not clear, but when it did jump the channel, it was readily accepted by most of the countries in southern and central Europe. Today besides a favorite sport of the Italians, it is played by the French, Hungarians and Bulgarians. The actual spelling of bocha ball is still in doubt, for in some instances you may see it spelled Bocce, or Boccie or even Bochi, as well as Bocha.

The design of the game is quite simple, but the talent to play it well requires many years to acquire. The shooting of the game is aimed at the Bollino, or a small ball about the size of a baseball, which is placed at one end of the 100 foot long court, about four or five feet from the end. Then each player rolls two balls at the bollino, the closest one or ones earning the points.

In bocha ball, teams play each other, as opposed to the original games of bowls in which individuals played one another. If it is a contest or special game, only two men play on a team, but otherwise the usual number is three, and the balls for each team are marked differently, either with an X or a circle.

The first man rolls his two balls and then a member of the opposite faction rolls his, his team continuing to roll until they beat the first roll. Beating the first roll can be quite a task and it is here that the skill of the bocha ball player is put to a fine test. If a roll comes to rest near the bollino, or blocks the path of further rolls, the player may have to send his bocha ball through the air to knock the first ball out of the way, or hit the back board and come up from behind on the bollino.

If a ball is knocked out of place by a later throw, the measure stick is put to use and if the bocha ball is more than a measures' length (about two feet) from its original spot, then it is out of the game and thus one less possible point for the team whose member threw it.

After all have thrown their bocha balls, final measurements are taken and the team whose balls are closest to the bollino gets one point for each ball which is closer than the closest ball of the opposing team. Game score usually runs 15 points.

One thing bocha ball his in common with bowls is the gyrations which the players are apt to go through. One of the Oak lane courts, one can hear a shouted word of persuasion as the bocha ball is let go towards the bollino; a shout designed to coax it towards the target. Such shouts were common also back in the early days of bowls.

Not only is color added to the game because of the shouts, but the wind-ups and follow throughs which the player is apt to add to his roll are well worth the price of admission.

Although bocha ball playing is most often just a game or relaxation for the men who meet on Oak lane, one weekend each summer formal competition is held. During this competition, teams of two are pitted against each other and the final winners receive a trophy or other prize in recognition of their talents.

Myers Drum Faces UAW in Industrial Basketball Tournament Finals Sunday

Smoothly functioning Myers Drum of San Pablo battles the fast-breaking United Auto Workers of Milpitas Sunday for the championship of the second annual Menlo Park Invitational Industrial Basketball Tournament.

The title game of the Menlo Park Recreation Department's tourney will be played at 4 p.m. at Burgess Gym. Varian Associates of Palo Alto and the San Francisco Fire Department meet in the consolation final at 2 p.m. Admission to both games is free.

On the basis of its outstanding performances in three tourney games to date, Myers will be the favorite. The East Bay quint toppled the highly-regarded Firemen 75-71 while the Auto Workers edged Varian 54-49 in semi-final games played last Sunday.

In earlier tests, Myers whipped Hewlett-Packard of Palo Alto, 47-26, and blasted Litton Industries of San Carlos, 90-59. The Auto Workers defeated United Air Lines of San Bruno 41-30 and squeezed past Shell Development of Emeryville 70-67 en route to the semis.

Featuring a trio of former All-Big Eight Conference players from West Contra Costa Junior College, Myers has displayed the best shooting eyes of the tournament (34 per cent) and has cleaned off nearly 60 per cent of the rebounds in its games.

Clyde Hardeman scored a tourney high of 37 points in leading the San Pablo quint to its come-from-behind victory over the Firemen. Hardeman has shot 44.6 per cent from the floor and taken down 44 rebounds (16 per cent of all those in games he's played) to gain the inside track on the tournament's most Valuable Player award.

Teammate Tyler Wilbon leads rebounders with 66, or 19 per cent, and has a 16 point per game average. Liso Dixon, third member of the Myers' triumvirate, has a 13 point average and has been good on 35 per cent of his field goal attempts.

Jim Brown, another former West Contra Costa ace, but of an earlier vintage than the Myers' trio, tossed in 12 of 29 field goal attempts for 25 points in the Auto Workers' semi-final victory. Brown has a 19.5 average for two games and UAW's Ron Stephenson ranks third in rebounding with 60 grabs for 15.5 per cent.

Larry Brady also figures in the Auto Workers' plans with his 14 point per game average.

The consolation final Sunday could turn into an individual duel between the Firemen's Jack Welch, ex-St. Mary's, who scored 32 against Myers, and Varian's Joe Hohmann, who hit 27—more than half his team's total—against UAW. The deciding factor could be the rebounding of the Smoke-eaters' Jack Flaherty, former USF star. He's fourth in the tourney with 29 rebounds for 14.6 per cent.

Following Sunday's championship game, Tournament Director Horace Aubertine of the sponsoring Menlo Park Recreation Department will present trophies to the champion, runner-up and consolation champion teams and to the individual members of the title club. Another trophy will be awarded to the player judged "Most Valuable" by tourney officials.

Burl Plunkett of champion Hiller's (Palo Alto) won the award last year, but his team was eliminated in the quarter-finals of the 1958 tourney. Plunkett, Little All-America from Centenary College in Shreveport, La., twice broke the Burgess gym scoring record with bursts of 51 and 46 points.

SPAL Ranks May Swell

Last week the three San Jose high schools withdrew from the South Peninsula Athletic League, bringing to an end a history which can be traced back as far as 1906. San Jose, Willow Glen and Lincoln high schools will join the Santa Clara Valley Athletic League, leaving three vacancies in the SPAL schedules.

This decision was made for several reasons. The SCVAL had asked the San Jose schools to join its ranks in order that they might raise their numbers sufficiently to warrant a north-south split in their own league, comparable to that in the PAL. For both leagues, this will mean less commuting and sports participation with schools closer to home.

As for the SPAL, it does not necessarily mean its destruction. Although the immediate result is to reduce the number of teams in the SPAL, there is a chance that within a year the league will be more crowded than it presently is.

When the new schools of Ravenswood and Woodside become operative athletically they will join the SPAL, bringing the number back up to par less one. And the SPAL has asked Mountain View and Los Altos high schools to join the league next year which, if they accept, will mean one more team in the league than at present.

This solution has definite commuting advantages since the furthest that a Menlo-Atherton team would have to travel is Mountain View rather than San Jose, more than twice the distance. Not only does this benefit the players, but the spectators as well.

The departure of the three San Jose clubs means the loss of three very strong teams in the league. Traditionally, San Jose, Willow Glen and Lincoln have fielded teams which vie for top honors in the league.

Although the loss of the San Jose teams to the SPAL means the breakup of one of the oldest high school athletic leagues around, the sadness of the occasion is softened by the prosperity which it indicates. The area is growing rapidly and all must grow with it. As the leagues split, drop some members and add others, good competition is lost, but if the ranks swell there can be no doubt that the competition will become more severe rather than less challenging.

Grizzlies, Carlmont Tangle

Menlo-Atherton's wrestling team will meet a very strong Carlmont squad this afternoon and then look forward to strong competition again in a Saturday tournament at Washington High in Centerville.

The Washington meet will see 16 schools entering their varsity wrestlers in a meet in which a team wrestles until it loses. The club that is estimated to be the strongest entering the meet is Gilroy, although with such dispersed teams predictions are dangerous.

Last week the wrestlers dropped one match to Salinas and took another from San Jose, a league match. In taking San Jose 41 to 12, the matmen made six pins for a total of 30 points. Pinning their opponents were Ange Buttera, Charles Yannacone, Ed Gibson, Ken Morton, Lance Hopkins and Don Armanasco. Taking three points apiece from their foes were Doug Catchings, Ray Holderman and Mike Toppom. Bruce Hopkins achieved a draw for two points.

The varsity dropped their match against Salinas, which was an invitational meet held last Friday, by a score of 27 to 19. Charles Yannacone, Ray Holderman and Don Armanasco all pinned their foes, capturing five points apiece. Doug Catchings and Lance Hopkins earned two points apiece when their matches resulted in a draw.

The junior varsity wrestlers faired better against their opponents than did their bigger brothers. Dick Smith, Mike Fox, Dick Costello, Ron Robertson and Lidi Reeves each nabbed five points for their team by pinning their foes. The compliment of points was made by Walt Takahashi with a draw and John Thomas with a decision.

Art Show Depicts California Growth

One hundred fascinating years of California growth is the Stanford University Art Gallery's present display.

The display which opened last week is the Robert B. Honeyman collection of 50 early prints and drawings of California, covering the period between 1806 and 1906 when lithography became the cheapest means of disseminating news.

The visual report of the opening of the West contains the finest known examples of lithography. The pictures show the Gold Rush in all its aspects, the first railroads, the clipper ships, the overland coaches, mining operations, the mushrooming gold towns, and the scenic beauties of the state.

Among the outstanding prints are Langsdorff's earliest known view of the Presidio, 1806; Marysville in 1849, California's first planned city; "How They Go to California," 1849, depicting gold-seekers leaving by rocket-ship and dirigible as well as by boat; Los Angeles in 1856;; San Jose in 1858; Sacramento during the flood of 1850; and "Occident," Governor Leland Stanford's brown gelding which held the trotting track record of 2 minutes, 16¾ seconds.

A large portion of the display is hand-tinted in color. It will be on view through February 3.

Gallery hours are Tuesday through Saturday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sundays, noon to 4 p.m. It is closed Mondays.

Michigan Grads Plan Pot Luck Meal

Howard Burnside, of Menlo Park is in charge of making arrangements for area University of Michigan graduates to attend the mid-year potluck dinner to be held this Saturday, Jan. 25.

The theme of this feature event for alumni and friends of the university will be "I Want to Go Back to Michigan," an old favorite on the Ann Arbor campus.

Those wishing to make arrangements for this event should contact Burnside at DA 3-4179.

B's Tie For 2nd In SPAL

Menlo-Atherton's B basketball squad won two games this past week putting themselves in a second place tie in the league with Lincoln, Sequoia holding the first place spot. The varsity split their two games this week, downing Willow Glen while being downed by San Jose. The varsity now has a 500 record for four games.

Taking two games from Willow Glen last Tuesday afternoon, the varsity defeated their foes 53 to 37 while the Bs took their opponents 36 to 22.

Missing the game due to a knee injury was usually high scoring forward Bob Ralls who may be out for several weeks. McDowell took his place and also high scoring honors for the Bears, tallying 15 points for the record. McDowell hit six out of eight shots from the floor while Fred Pegelow, who ran second to him as high scorer with 11 points, hit four out of eight shots.

All told, the Bears took 42 rebounds and hit with an average of 37.7 per cent.

The varsity five led the Willow Glen all the way, receiving very little trouble from the team from down south.

The lightweights also had a relatively easy time of defeating the Willow Glen Bs. By defeating their foes by a score of 36 to 22, the Bs played the fourth best defensive game in league history.

Cliff Davis took high scoring honors from the Bs in this game with a total of 13 points. Jon Peck followed him with 10 points.

The M-A Bears went down to defeat under the heavy last quarter playing of the San Jose five last week by a score of 43 to 38. The Bears were doing very nicely against the man to man defense of the Bulldogs, but when the hosts switched to a zone defense in the third period, the Bears were thrown off balance sufficiently to stymie their scoring for a good 10 minutes.

When they faced the zone, M-A's control of the backboards faded and their scoring attempts were ineffective. Offensive play has been a problem of the Bears all along this season, with little consistency to the scoring patterns. And this proved to be the case again in the San Jose game. Offense was good in the second and third quarters, but in the first and fourth it was off.

Forward Bob Ralls took top scoring honors in this game with a total tally of 10, followed by Rosey Jones who chalked up nine.

The Bs fared better against San Jose than did the varsity, trouncing the lightweights 34 to 26. Although it was a close game throughout, the Bs led their foes all the way, holding San Jose to only nine points in the first half.

As expected, the Bs defensive play was top notch again against the Bulldogs and there was a noticeable improvement in the offensive play. Not only were they shooting more accurately, but the play patterns revealed a definite design and certainly the results were proof of improvement.

Clive Hanson and Dom Ascani were high scorers for the Bs with 10 points apiece, while Jon Peck rated next on the list with nine points.

M-A Tracksters To Attend Clinic At Stanford

Menlo-Atherton's track and field coach, Don Dorfmeier, will be among those who gather at Stanford University for the track and field clinic on Saturday, Feb. 1.

This one day clinic, prepared by the Stanford coaching staff especially for high school and junior college coaches, will begin about 8 a.m. on the first in Cubberley auditorium and will run through the morning. Panel discusisons and lectures will be interspersed with films.

In the afternoon the Indian trackstars will participate in an intersquad meet on Angell field.

Dorfmeier will be a member of a panel of four who will discuss some of the problems and methods of track coaching. Dorfmeier will talk on the organization aspect of track and field.

The prospective M-A track squad for this season will be invited to attend the clinic, Dorfmeier reported recentdly, and since it precedes the commencement of track practice by only a few days, he anticipates that the Bear tracksters will show quite a bit of interest in the clinic.

Eighth Grade Cage League Results

Eighth grade basketball games will again be played at the Burgess gym this Saturday as part of the Menlo Park Recreation Department and Menlo Park Elementary School District winter league.

Those battling each other this Saturday will be: Hillview 2 and Oak Knoll 2, Encinal 1 and Oak Knoll 1, Las Lomitas 1 and Oak Knoll 2, Menlo Oaks 1 and Hillview 1, St. Joseph and Hillview 3, Menlo Oaks 2 and Encinal 2, and Las Lomitas 2 and Encinal 3.

Results of last week's games were: Encinal 1, 25 ,Hillview 2, 8; Las Lomitas 1, 9, Oak Knoll 3, 7; Menlo Oaks 1, 17, Oak Knoll 1, 9; St. Joseph 14, Oak Knoll 2, 15; Menlo Oaks 2, 20, Hillview 1, 11; Las Lomitas 2, 28, Hillview 3, 4; Encinal 2, 20, Encinal 3, 17.

Mailman Helps Cage Team Win

The Menlo Park postoffice—as usual—played a big part in the Palo Alto Oaks 1958 season opening baseball victory over the Petaluma Giants Sunday at El Camino Park.

Postman Tom Del Sarto, who racked up a 22-9 record with the Oaks last season, spaced eight hits for a 5-3 triumph. First baseman Paul Melvin, another letter-carrier, ripped two hits in four times at bat and scored twice to help spark the Oaks' offense.

Palo Alto, with southpaw Del Sarto on the mound, entertains the San Jose merchants in San Jose Winter League action at El Camino next Sunday.

REGULAR WEEKLY meeting of the Stanford Village folk dancers will convene at 8 p.m. Friday at the Village auditorium.

Lincoln Next For M-A Five

Menlo - Atherton's basketball squads will play hosts to a very strong and undefeated Lincoln clubs tomorrow evening in the M-A gym.

Lincoln's varsity squad is favored to win the South Peninsula Athletic League basketball championship this year, and the way they are going so far they seem likely to fulfill that speculation. Both teams work with a strong and accurate offensive play which the M-A coaches speculate will give their clubs a lot of trouble. Just for instance, last week against Cubberley, four of the five Lincoln varsity starters hit in the double figures for scoring.

The Bs will be looking to a very big club, probably the biggest they have faced this season. And since the Bs are a small club anyway, they have a special problem when they meet a tall group like Lincoln.

Coach Bill Loftus of the B squad is looking to his strong defense to pull the Bs out of this jam. The Bs have been working very well on their defensive play this year using both man to man and zone play. Loftus has been interchanging the two plans as the situation necessitates, using the man to man for a tighter defense when the opposition's scoring becomes too potent. However, man to man doesn't give the Bs the control of the backobard which their zone defense does when their taller players are under the basket. Also, screening is more effective when the Bs use their zone defense.

But Loftus attributes the success of his defense, not to the organization of the play, but to the heads up ball of the players. He reports that they all have good reactions and are playing "heady" ball.

Although the Bs have one defeat on the record, their chances for coming out on top in the league still look pretty good, especially if they can down Lincoln tomorrow evening. As for the varsity, they are going to have a much harder pull for it. Although they have the same record as the lightweights, they generally meet a much stronger club, comparison - wise. Whereas the Bs can look forward to a few reasonably easy games, the varsity will have to plug, and plug hard, for every win they do get.

Oaks Hold 8-1 Record

With finals coming up the Menlo Oaks basketball team takes a vacation from playing. Their next game won't be until Tuesday, when they play San Jose JC, at San Jose.

Meanwhile, the Oaks have been doing very well, especially in non-conference play, where they now have a 8-1 record. The Coast Conference record is not too good, being 1-3.

Last Friday Menlo took Hartnell 51-56 in a game that was close most of the way. Time after time the Blues came within three or four points of Menlo, and then seemed to lose their shooting accuracy. When this happened, sometimes the Oaks would lose a little steam, too, and the ball would sweep up and down the court five or six times, with nary a basket.

Near the end Menlo pulled out ahead and stayed there.

This wasn't anyone's night for spectacular scoring, though since the team won there shouldn't be any complaint. Woodland and Kelley each had 14 and Westlake had 12.

Things were somewhat easier in the Stanford Braves game, played Monday night. Though Stanford took an early lead, it didn't take the Oaks long to catch up and pull ahead.

Stanford had the height in the game but it didn't prove to be too effective since their shooting lacked a great deal of accuracy. The Oaks' shooting, too, was not as accurate as it could be. The scoring ran about the same as the Hartnell game. Westlake had 12; Woodland, 16; and Kelley, 12.

The Oaks seemed to have improved a great deal. Things look much better than they did during the Coast Counties Tournament. Rebounds are being played. Teamwork is very good. There is no ball hogging. Everything is fast. Accuracy of some of the players could be improved, but that's not too important.

How Menlo does against San Jose will probably decide their position in the Conference.

MP Library Shows Chinese Art Work

Anna Wu Weakland, former resident of Menlo Park, is exhibiting eight pieces of her contemporary Chinese paintings at the Menlo Park Library.

The paintings, executed with pigments from China on mulberry, rice paper and silk, depict a variety of subjects. Mrs. Weakland chooses her subjects from nature but her favorite subject is the birds whose habits she studies attentively. The most striking quality of her work—simplicity. This feature is surpassed only by her skillful use of brush strokes and bold execution. Painting with traditional Chinese methods, she works toward enriching the ancient style with new techniques and ideas.

Mrs. Weakland was born in Shanghai and graduated from the University of Shanghai. In 1947 she came to America to do graduate work at Columbia University, where she obtained her master's degree and also met her husband.

She is married to John H. Weakland, a research associate in Anthropology department at Stanford, who is also doing research in mental illness at the Veteran's hospital in Menlo Park.

Although Mrs. Weakland began to use a paint brush and to write the intricate Chinese calligraphy when she was only six, her art career actually started in 1950 when she met Prof. Ya-Chun Wang, one of the most prominent masters of contemporary Chinese painting today. She studied intensively, many days each week, for three years until moving to the bay area four years ago.

This talented young Chinese-American artist has exhibited previously in Roosevelt Memorial Hall at Hunter College, the China Institute in New York, Stanford Gallery, the Allied Arts Guild, Palo Alto main library and in several interior decorating studios. Many of her paintings are still in the possession of private owners on both the East and West coasts.

Mrs. Weakland does most of her painting and teaches both Chinese painting and brush work at her studio-home in Los Altos.

This exhibit will continue through February 15.

Garden Column:

Planting Fruit Trees in Same Hole Has Several Advantages for Home Gardeners

Have you heard the saying, "Two can live as cheaply as one"? Whether this is so may be disputed, but few will argue that three fruit trees can live as cheaply as one—in terms of garden space.

Planting three trees (different varieties of the same fruit) of similar habit in one hole is a practice which solves the average home owner's problem of fruit variety in a limited space for fruit production. Besides saving space, planting three trees in a hole has two other advantages to the small home gardener: a longer bearing season and cross-pollination for species which require it.

Apple, peach, plum, apricot, nectarine, pear and cherry trees are among the species which have already proven themselves adaptable to this practical growing scheme. However, the selection of three trees cannot be made just at random. Such considerations are size and form of growth, foliage patterns and ripening season must be taken into account to guarantee best results. The advice of local nurserymen, based on their experience, will prove valuable in selection of species and varieties.

Actual planting of the three trees is not a difficult procedure at all. The trees are simply placed 18 inches apart in a triangular design in one large hole. The branches and roots which will face toward the center of the planting must be carefully pruned to prevent crowding. Here again the nurseryman from whom the trees are selected will provide help. Aside from this pruning the procedure for preparing the soil and settling the new trees into the ground is the same as for any other fruit tree.

Two excellent trios which illustrate the advantages of three-in-a-hole planting are Freedom Nectarine with Gold Dust Peach and Early Elberta Peaches and Panamint Nectarine with Golden Blush Peach and Springtime Peach. All six varieties are the popular freestone types. In the first trio the ripening period begins in early June with Early Elbertas, flourishes in early July with the perfect shaped Gold Dust and climaxes in late July with the highly-colored Freedom Nectarines.

The other trio has a more widely spread bearing season. Springtime ripens in May, Panamint Nectarines in July and Golden Blush Peaches in August. The bright red outer color of Panamint Nectarines increases the already substantial benefits in terms of fruit quality provided by this mid-season fruit. Springtime's early crop has a sweet but tangy flavor.

In addition to these two popular combinations which most local nurseries encourage, the combinations of three varieties of the same fruit are excellent. In some instances, in fact, the combination is necessary. Cherries, plums and almonds, for example, require cross-pollination, so they must be planted near appropriate trees of their species even when planted singly. The situation is far more satisfactory when the trees are planted in trios. Combining varieties of the same fruit has the advantage of obtaining uniform foliage appearance.

Stanford Players Set Play Date

The romantic four-act play, "He Who Gets Slapped," by Leonid Andreyev, will be presented by the Stanford Players on Jan. 30, 31, and Feb. 1 at 8:15 p.m. in Memorial Hall on campus.

The play tells of He, an aristocrat, who gives up a life of riches to join the circus world as a clown and falls in love with Consuela the bareback rider.

Tickets may be reserved by calling Memorial Hall box office (DA 3-0665) weekday afternoons between 12:30 and 4:30, Peninsula box office (DA 2-211) or Carlson Book store (DA 6-7623).

Menlo Residents In P. A. Concert

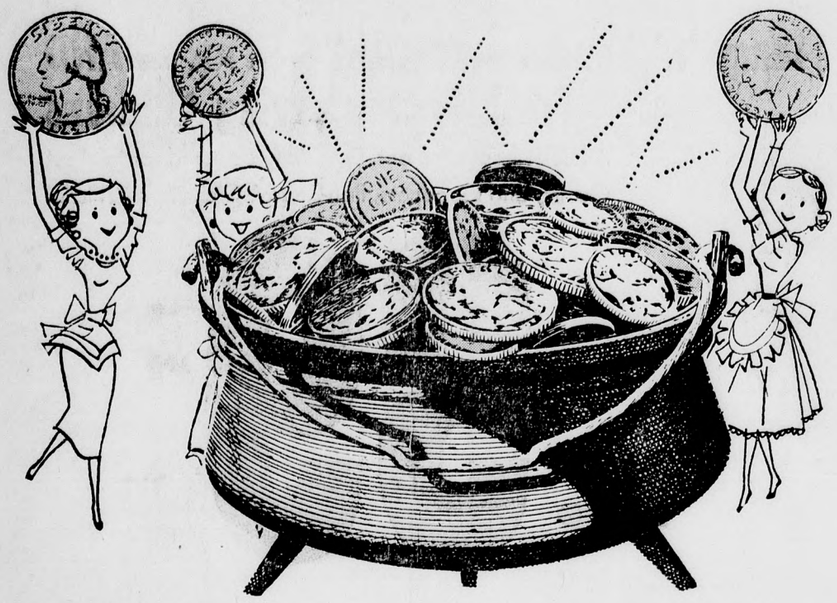

Donald Blackmarr, concertmaster; Edward Brown, first violin; Frances Fischer, viola; Maurine Stowe, cello; and Leonard Lasher, bass, all residents of Menlo Park will play with the Palo Alto Sinfonietta Society at their winter concert on Jan. 29 at 8:30 p.m. in Palo Alto High School auditorium.

Featured soloist for the evening will be Alice Schoenfeld, internationally known concert violinist. She will play the Fifth Concerto for Violin in A Major K-219.

Miss Schoenfeld, who made her first concert tour at the age of 5, was born in Yugoslavia and came to live in the United States six years ago. She is now a resident of Los Angeles. With Eleonore Schoenfeld, cellist and Siegfried Schultze, pianist, they compose the Schoenfeld trio that won critical acclaim in San Francisco last November when they were on tour and gave a concert at San Francisco State college.

Tickets are available at Hage's Stanford Music Shop, Palo Alto, Melody Lane and Peninsula Box Office. Student tickets will be sold only at the door on the night of the performance. Mail orders for individual tickets or for the three concerts of the season may be obtained by writing to Mrs. Harold Kay, 240 Washington avenue, Palo Alto.

Menlo Park Creative Dance Group Plans New Series of Instruction

Amanda Vlahakis of Menlo Park will be the instructor for a new class of creative dance which is soon to start under the suspices of the Menlo Park Creative Dance Group. This group, which is associated with the Dick Ford Creative Dance School of KQED's "Hop, Skip and Dance" program, is planning a new session for area residents which will stress aid in child development as well as the pleasures which may be gained from self-expression through dancing.

For the child, modern dance means a multitude of things, explains Mrs. Vlahakis. First, he uses his body, developing strength, grace and coordination through exercises. Secondly, his sense of rhythm is developed by listening and responding physically to different rhythms. Third, the child's creative abilities are brought out by having him express in movement the things he sees and feels around him—the animals at home or school, the wind, shells on the beach.

Mrs. Vlahakis continues, "Modern dance attempts to reach a more all-around growth and development of the child than merely the perfect execution of certain steps. It does this through helping the child discover how to expose ideas and feelings with his body, while at the same time giving him the vocabulary of movement with which to do it."

If a teenager develops confidence in herself and can meet any situation or challenge because she knows "how" and because she looks attractive, she will find growing up not so difficult at all.

Mrs. Vlahakis formerly taught in Palo Alto and Ravenswood and holds a teaching credential from the University of California. She studied dancing with Sylvia Hanson and with Lenore Peters Job, and danced with the Job Group, the Orchesis honorary dance group at UC and with the Danslyvanian Ballet.

A new session of the Menlo Park Creative Dance Group will begin at St. Mark's Episcopal Church on Jan. 22.

Classes for pre-schoolers and kindergarteners will continue with the addition of three new classes being offered. The additional groups include a first grade group, pre-tumbling for boys 5 to 7, and the "Glamour for Teens" group for young ladies in the eighth grade.

'No Exit' Drama Presented by Comedia Players

Peter Kump, executive producer of Comedia, the Peninsula's newest repertory company, announced today that David Haynes has been chosen to play the leading role in the forthcoming production of "No Exit."

Kump and Mike Kitay, director of the company's highly successful comedy, "The Chalk Garden," interviewed several very competent actors before deciding on Haynes, an actor of considerable experience, both amateur and professional.

Haynes, who works for Pan American, has been acting since high school, and he has played leads in over 30 major productions. As an actor he began to be noticed at Rutgers University, and by the time he came to Stanford he was well prepared for the roles which awaited him.

After receiving his M.A. in Drama at Stanford, he went on to work with the Gallery Circle Theater in New Orleans. From these he began his professional career when he was accepted as an actor in a professional troupe in Maine.

Having worked up to the top in this group, he went out on his own in Ohio. Here he formed a professional stock company, Ohio Valley Productions, in which he successfullly proved himself as producer and director as well as actor.

In 1950 he moved to this area with his family, where he has been active with the Palo Alto Community Theater. He will be remembered for parts in "King of Hearts," "Detective Story," and most recently he was seen in "Time Limit."

"No Exit," Sartre's controversial play which was banned in England for ten years, will open January 31, and run February 1, 2: 7, 8, and 9 at Rickey's Studio Inn, in Palo Alto.

Tickets are now on sale at the ticket office at Rickey's, DA 2-9044.

Local Teacher to Conduct Tour of Europe This Summer

An experienced traveler residing here plans to conduct a tour of Europe next summer.

He is Dr. Gale Engle of 1011 Sonoma avenue, teacher of English and Philosophy at San Jose Junior College and currently a teacher of philosophy at the Menlo-Atherton adult evening school.

Dr. Engle, who speaks French and German and who is currently studying Italian, first went to Europe in 1939 as a tourist.

In 1945 and 1946, he served with the World YMCA, working with displaced persons and former prisoners of war.

Dr. Engle says he plans to leave New York June 14 and will visit points of interest in Italy, Austria, Switzerland, Germany and the 1958 World's Fair in Brussels.

The tour will end with a visit to England, where the travelers will visit Stratford-on-Avon and London. The travelers are to return to New York July 28.

Arrangements are being made, reports Dr. Engle, for college credit for those desiring it.

MP GARDEN CLUB

Garden Club of Menlo Park meets tonight at 8 p.m. at Little House.

The scheduled speaker is Robert Ammerman, specialist in chrysanthemum culture from the Lakeside Nursery in Oakland.

It's fun to dial a long distance call—and so easy!

Suppose you want to call PLaza 5-0599 in New York

First dial 2-1-2, the Area Code for New York. Then dial the telephone number, P-L-5 . . . 0-5-9-9.

You'll find most Area Codes listed in the booklet we've mailed you. It's a good idea to keep it handy for easy reference. Area Codes are not necessary when dialing cities in your Home Area—places like San Francisco, Santa Cruz, Gilroy, and Eureka. Check your Direct Distance Dialing booklet for a list of such cities.

A Show for 'Town and Country':

Junior League Readies Style Parade

A BARBECUE IN the country and what the young matron might wear to such an informal affair will be among the "Town and Country" fashions shown at the Junior League style parade in San Francisco February 5. Among the models who will promenade will be (from left) Mrs. Frederick Knoop, Mrs. Douglas Horner and Mrs. John Miller, all Junior League members from Atherton. —Recorder photo

Reservations are "pouring in" and a record attendance of fashion-minded women throughout the bay area is expected to attend the annual big fashion show of the Junior League of San Francisco Inc., now in its final planning stages for the "production date" of Wednesday, February 5.

Names of those from Menlo Park, Atherton and Woodside appear frequently throughout the long list of those participating or planning to attend the chic style show . . . Mrs. Walter McNiff of Atherton is among four additional models added to the roster . . . among Junior League models, assisted by their husbands, who will display fabulous jewels are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ross of Menlo Park . . . and, Mrs. John E. Keyes of Woodside has been listed among those taking sponsors tables.

Mrs. McNiff is also in charge of timing and among those she has selected to assist her is Mrs. Robert Conlan of Menlo Park.

The locale of the show is the Sheraton-Palace Hotel and the event will be cued to a "Town and Country" fashion theme. Twenty children of League members will be among the models . . . and there will be a "Brides of the Future" sequence with five Junior League members modeling mother-of-the-bride ensembles with their own teen-age daughters as the "brides" and "bridesmaids and flower girls."

HOSTESS CORPS

A corps of hostesses will be on hand to assist guests in finding their tables in the rooms to be taken over by the Junior Leaguers for their show . . . models will promenade throughout the Garden Court, Gold Room, and Rose and Concert Rooms, each of which will be decorated in the "town and country" theme.

The luncheon-show will get under way at 12:30 p.m. and tickets may be reserved at $6.50 each by calling the Catering Department at the Sheraton - Palace Hotel. Sponsor tables, at an additional $25, are still available and may be reserved by calling Mrs. James V. Lawry, WAlnut 1-2119.

Ray Hackett's orchestra will provide background music and clothes will be from I. Magnin Co. Proceeds will go to the charity projects of the Junior League which comprises its bay area units including the Palo Alto unit. In all, there will be nine local young matrons from Atherton and Woodside included in those who will be modeling at the show.

"IN TOWN" each Tuesday morning have been these members of the Junior League of San Francisco Inc. where they have been attending "modeling school" in preparation to their roles as mannequins for the February 5 "Town and Country" fashion show at the Palace Hotel. Learning the techniques of modeling are (from left) Mrs. William Edwards, Mrs. Herbert Richards, both of Atherton, and Mrs. Arthur L. Schmitz of Los Altos. —Recorder photo

At Woodside Village Church:

Sherry Douglass Weds

Following their honeymoon in Hawaii, Mr. and Mrs. James Joseph Trabucco will establish their home in Woodside.

The young couple was married at a surprise wedding last Saturday afternoon at the Woodside Village Church. The bride is the former Sherry Celeste Douglass, daughter of Mrs. Elton Tognazzini of Atherton and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Trabucco of Hillsborough.

The wedding vows were read by Rev. J. Hood Snavely and afterwards, a small reception for family members was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tognazzini on Park lane.

1952 DEB

The bride, who made her debut at the Debutante Cotillion in 1952, chose for her wedding a waltz length gown of ivory peau de soie designed on princess lines. Alencon lace trimmed the bodice and bouffant skirt and her fingertip length veil of French illusion fell from a headpiece of matching Alencon lace. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis and orchids.

Mrs. Robert Cecil (Beverly Douglass) was matron of honor for her sister and selected a sheer pale yellow frock fashioned with a bouffant skirt and draped boat neckline. In her hair, she wore a bandeau of yellow leaves and she carried yellow and white carnations.

Valerie Tognazzini, Sherry's step-sister, was maid of honor and was dressed identically to the matron of honor only in pale green with a bouquet of yellow carnations.

BEST MAN

Franklin C. Wheeler stood as best man and Richard Tognazzini, the bride's step-brother, was the usher. Mr. Tognazzini escorted Sherry to the altar which was banked with maidenhair fern and standards of white stock and carnations.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Tognazzini selected charcoal gray emboridered lace and brown net over brown silk crepe. At her shoulder, she pinned green orchids. Mrs. Trabucco chose a toast colored ribbon knit and wore pink orchids.

For traveling to the Hawaiian Islands, the new Mrs. Trabucco donned a silver beige Italian silk suit with a matching chapeau and a black Persian lamb jacket. After they return from the islands the newlyweds will be honored at a large reception at Menlo Country Club given by Mr. and Mrs. Tognazzini.

BACKGROUND

Sherry, who is also the daughter of Eldridge A. Douglass of Menlo Park, was graduated from Castilleja and attended the University of Arizona where she was a Gamma Phi Beta. She also attended Mount Vernon Junior College in Washington, D.C., and the Tobe-Coburn School of Design in New York.

She is also the sister of Laurel and Michael Douglass and Donn Tognazzini and the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Leon Forrest Douglass of Menlo Park, the late Mrs. Celeste H. Perry of Palo Alto and the late J. S. Perry of Richmond, Va., and San Diego.

Jim, as the benedict is known, was graduated from Stanford and Stanford Law School and received his master's degree at Georgetown University. He is affiliated with Alpha Tau Omega and Phi Delta Phi legal fraternity. He is now practicing in San Mateo.

His grandparents are Judge and Mrs. Joseph Trabucco of Mariposa and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph James Jefferis of Philadelphia, Pa. Jim served for three years at the Pentagon and is a captain in the Army Reserve.

They'll Go 'To Town':

No Host Tables Taken by Localites

Many no host tables as well as sponsor tables are being planned for the fashion show February 5 by the Junior League of San Francisco Inc. at the Palace Hotel with a large group representing the Peninsula.

Another no host table is the one reserved by Mrs. Joseph Morningstar of Menlo Park for Mrs. William Curtiss Jr., Mrs. Charles Huggins, Mrs. Norman Anderson, Mrs. Frederick McFarland, Mrs. Edward Settle, Mrs. Russell Downey, Mrs. Edward Eyre, Mrs. Robert Williams and Mrs. Ned Barnes.

Seven Peninsula matrons will lunch together at still another table, arranged by Mrs. Ryland Kelly of Menlo Park and will include Mrs. Donald Jackson, Mrs. Francis North, Mrs. Joseph Pickering, Mrs. Robert Jamplis, Mrs. Thomas Sousa and Mrs. Malcolm Dungan.

At the table arranged by Mrs. George Stewart of Atherton will be Mrs. Edward Seipp, Mrs. Emmett Cashin, Mrs. Richard Zellerbach and Mrs. Lewis V. Coleman.

Still more reservations . . . Mrs. John Chadwick will have as her guest her mother, Mrs. Stanley Hiller Sr., and Mrs. Roy A. Folger will have as her guest her mother, Mrs. William Hippeli . . . also at this table will be Mrs. Peter Montieth and her guest, Mrs. E. Cahill, and Mrs. Henry McIntyre.

Mrs. William Gilmore of San Francisco and Atherton is listed among those taking sponsor tables . . . her two daughters, Mrs. Frederick G. Knoop and Mrs. William Mackall Jason, both of Atherton, will be modeling during the show . . . others at a sponsor table will be Mrs. Guilford Congdon, Mrs. Marron Kendrick and Mrs. Edward Keil.

Mrs. Harry Willard of Menlo Park has also taken a sponsor table and joining her will be Mrs. Richard Ettinger and her mother, Mrs. Mary Lyon, Mrs. David Warner, Mrs. Elizabeth Marvin, Mrs. Phillip Peller who is visiting on the Peninsula from England, Mrs. Robert Champion and Mrs. Richard Wood.

At Mrs. John Wickett's sponsor table will be Mrs. George T. Brady Jr., Mrs. Carl Ludwig Hansen, Mrs. Louis Hendricks, Mrs. Dewey Donnell and Mrs. Charlotte Lockridge . . . Mrs. Joseph Welsh Jr., chairman of the Palo Alto Unit of Junior League, will be seated at a sponsor table arranged by her mother, Mrs. Fred Hihn of San Francisco.

Several individual tables have been reserved . . . at one will be Mrs. Ethan Ives and Mrs. John Belcher (Barbara Black) and at another will be Mrs. Robert Yates, Mrs. Earl Skidmore and Mrs. William Tevis.

Commentator Set for CHS Forum Series

Felix Greene, world traveler and well known radio commentator formerly with the British Broadcasting Corporation, will present the next program of the forum series sponsored by the Menlo-Atherton Chapter of the Children's Home Society Monday, February 3.

The topic of the lecture will be "Books: The Reflections of Our Contemporary World" at 10:30 a.m. at the Menlo Park Presbyterian Church social hall. The lecture will be preceded by a 10 a.m. coffee hour.

Ticket information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Philip Beach, DA 5-5926, or Mrs. M. E. Linxwiler, DA 2-0882.

ADPi to Stage Auction Tues.

The senior group of the Peninsula Alumnae of Alpha Delta Pi will hold a "white elephant" sale at the regular monthly meeting next Tuesday, January 28, at the home of Mrs. James E. Tozer, 407 Encinal avenue, Menlo Park.

Members attending are asked to bring any white elephant items from home and after a short business meeting, an "auction of fun" will be staged.

Assisting Mrs. Tozer with refreshments will be Mrs. R. Stewart Norris Jr., Atherton, Mrs. S. S. Payne and Mrs. John P. Arnot, both of Menlo Park.

Any Peninsula Alpha Delta Pi interested in attending may call Mrs. Arnot, DA 5-8360.

SOROPTIMIST CLUB will meet today at 12:15 p.m. at the Marie Antoinette and will hear a talk by Kathleen Sievers who returned recently from Europe. Mrs. Seivers, who is regional treasurer of Soroptimist International and past president of the local club, will give her impressions of a re-visit to England after 23 years and a "look at Germany today."

Home in Hawaii:

Brickley-Clarkin Vows Repeated

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT CLARKIN —du Charme photo

A home in the Hawaiian Islands is being established by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clarkin (Marilyn Brickley) following their January 11 wedding at Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church in Redwood City.

Marilyn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Brickley of Menlo Park, and Bob is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Clarkin who were here from their home in Honolulu. Following the vow exchange, a champagne-luncheon was held at the Villa Chartier in San Mateo for some 50 guests.

Given in marriage by her father, Marilyn chose a gown of silk taffeta with a Mayen Age neckline etched with Alencon lace and a full princess style skirt appliqued with Alencon and peau d'ange laces. A matching silk taffeta and lace cap edged with pearls held her veil and she carried a cascade arrangement of eucharist lilies, lilies of the valley and stephanotis.

HONOR ATTENDANT

Mrs. Richard Johnson of Lincoln, Nebr., came here to be her sister's matron of honor. She chose an emerald green velvet waltz length dress with a matching color satin cummerbund. Her slippers and her feather hat matched the color of her frock and she carried a cascade arrangement of white gardenias.

In the roles of bridesmaids were Mrs. John Brickley of Flint, Michigan, the bride's sister-in-law, and Miss Valorie Clarkin of Honolulu, the benedict's sister. They were dressed identically to the matron of honor.

Dr. John Clarkin of New York City was best man for his brother and ushers were Dr. John Brickley of Flint, Mich., Robert Brickley of Menlo Park, both brothers of the bride, and Michael McGee of San Mateo.

Rev. Monsignor Edwin J. Kennedy officated at the 12 noon wedding.

MOTHERS' ATTIRE

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Brickley chose a mink-toned satin dress with matching accessories. Mrs. Clarkin donned a gold brocade frock with matching accessories.

The young couple left a week ago yesterday aboard the Matsonia with members of the two families attending the bon voyage. For traveling, the new Mrs. Clarkin was wearing a black suit with beige and brown accessories.

Marilyn attended Loretto Abbey School in Toronto, Canada and was graduated cum laude last June from Trinity College, Washington, D. C., where she majored in modern languages. Since her graduation, she has been living in Menlo Park with her family.

Bob attended St. Thomas Military Academy, St. Paul, Minn., and majored in political science at the University of Santa Clara. He is in business with his father who is president of the Pepsi Cola Company in the Hawaiian Islands.

Local Music Lovers Bid To Opera

Local music lovers are invited to attend the "Czar's Bride," an historical opera in four acts, next Tuesday evening at the San Mateo Auditorium, beginning at 8:15 p.m.

The opera is being sponsored by Countess Lillian Dandini who is primarily interested in promoting opera on the Peninsula.

Tickets, at $3 each, may be obtained at the auditorium the night of the performance or from Mrs. F. Ramsdell Cummings of Woodside, UL 1-1824.

Galla DeDenko will star in the lavish production which will also feature Victor Primo and Xenia Belavin, a chorus of 12 and several Russian dancers.

Mr. and Mrs. Cummings will entertain at a small dinner party preceding the performance as will Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Isenberg, also of Woodside. Countess Dandini will also be hostess at a dinner and will honor the cast at a reception following the performance.

W-A Auxiliary:

New Officers Are Named

Mrs. Francis S. North of Atherton has been elected president of the Woodside - Atherton Junior Auxiliary to the Stanford Convalescent Home to succeed Mrs. Herbert Armstrong of Woodside who has served as president for the past year.

Officers were named at the annual meeting of the Auxiliary last Friday at the Convalescent Home followed by a no-host luncheon at the Menlo Country Club.

Members of the Auxiliary staff and operate the Allied Arts Guild and assist in drafting plans for the Tally Ho Horse Show and Party staged each summer. Proceeds from both projects benefit the Stanford Convalescent Home.

Mrs. James H. Barry of Atherton has been named party director for this year's gala benefit.

New board members named are Mrs. Eric Stanford, Menlo Park, vice chairman; Mrs. William Lowe Jr., Woodside, secretary; Mrs. Anthony Thompson, Atherton, treasurer; Mrs. Richard C. Johnston Jr., Atherton, guild director, and Mrs. Barry.

Additional directors include Mrs. Robert W. Jamplis, Atherton, publicity; Mrs. James LaPlante, Menlo Park, membership; Mrs. Robert Hexom, Woodside, horse show; Mrs. Donelson Berger, Los Altos Hills, program; Mrs. Thomas Mason, Redwood City, placement; Mrs. Robert Reis, Atherton, coordinator, and Mrs. Armstrong, ex-chairman.

WOODSIDE-ATHERTON Junior Auxiliary to the Stanford Convalescent home will be in the "hands" of this foursome for the new year following their election to office last week. The localites are (from left) Mrs. Richard C. Johnston Jr., Allied Arts Guild director, Mrs. Francis S. North, president, both of Atherton, Mrs. Eric Stanford, Menlo Park, vice-chairman, and Mrs. James Barry, Atherton, who will be director for next summer's big Tally Ho Horse Show and Party. —Recorder photo

Bridge for Funds:

Chi O to Aid Scholarships

"Bridge for Fun . . . Funds for Scholarship" is the theme of the six benefit bridge parties being planned for next Tuesday at homes of Chi Omega peninsula alumnae.

The parties will begin at 1:30 p.m. and the hostesses include Mrs. Samuel Thurman, Mrs. Paul Elsner, Mrs. William Pabst, Mrs. James Arnott, all of Atherton; Mrs. Herbert Ormsby of Palo Alto, and Mrs. A. L. Hawley of Los Altos.

Chi Omega annually presents a college scholarship to a high school girl in the area. Dessert and coffee will be served at each home, followed by bridge or canasta.

CHAIRMAN

Mrs. Raymond Granieri of Palo Alto is chairman of the benefit and assisting her are Mrs. John Beicher, Mrs. C. H. Hill, Mrs. Fielding McDearmon and Mrs. Emmet Cameron, all of Menlo Park, and Mrs. Harry Nevin and Mrs. Bill Closs of Palo Alto.

Tickets, at $1.50 each, may be reserved with Mrs. McDearmon, DA 2-3970.

Assistant hostesses have been announced as follows:

At Mrs. Thurman's home will be Mrs. Earl Miller, Mrs. William Horn, Mrs. Malcolm Paterson and Mrs. Sidney Badger; co-hostesses with Mrs. Elsner will be Mrs. Edward Burke, Mrs. Lewis Cass and Mrs. J. McCowan; assisting Mrs. Pabst will be Mrs. Donald Hills, Mrs. Robert Saxe and Mrs. Gerald Shillaker; assisted Mrs. Arnott will be Mrs. Wayne Wiesner, Mrs. James Sawtell, Mrs. McDearmon, and Mrs. Cameron.

OTHERS NAMED

Co-hostesses with Mrs. Ormsby will be Mrs. Neil Kantner, Mrs. Alden Herbert, Mrs. K. S. Thompson; Mrs. Hawley will be assisted by Mrs. Thomas Morris, Mrs. William Best, Mrs. Ruth Miller and Mrs. John Soderstrum.

FOURTH FOR BRIDGE? This call will be answered next Tuesday, January 28, when Chi Omega alumnae will stage their benefit bridge party at six area homes. Mrs. Samuel D. Thurman (right) of Atherton will be a hostess at her Atherton home and one of her co-hostesses will be Mrs. Malcolm G. Paterson (left) of Menlo Park. Mrs. Lewis Cass (center), of Menlo Park, will be one of the assistants at the Paul Elsner home in Atherton. —Recorder photo

Hidden Treasures:

Auction Date Told

The Committee for Art at Stanford is planning a "Hidden Treasure Auction" next month to raise funds for the permanent collections at both the Stanford Museum and the Art Gallery.

Mrs. King Harris of Woodside is chairman of the two day event calendared for Friday and Saturday, February 14 and 15, at the Stanford Museum. The auctioneer will be Fred R. Butterfield.

Donations of articles will be accepted, and appreciated, through this Saturday, January 25, and all pieces auctioned will be cataloged and appraised so that donations may be used as income tax deductions. Articles may be left at the Museum.

DONATIONS

Donations have been made of many objects including paintings, etchings, prints, lithographs, heirloom jewelry, silver, pewter tea services, cripital sconces, Chinese art, antique furniture and fine reproductions, books, vases, musical instruments and fur rugs.

The preview for the auction will be held February 8 through 13 from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. at the Stanford Museum and no admission will be charged to the Museum these days.

Local members working on this event are Mrs. Maurice Oppenheimer, Atherton, co-chairman of acquisitions; Mrs. Hervey Parke Clarke, Woodside, co-chairman of acquisitions; Mrs. Wallace Andersen, Mrs. Harold Sox, Mrs. J. Emmett Caldwell, all of Atherton, Mrs. James Coonan, Woodside.

AREA CHAIRMEN

Area chairmen are Mrs. Clark, Woodside, Mrs. Nathan Most, Atherton, and Mrs. Sheppard Tucker, Westridge. The catalogue committee includes Mrs. Howard McCully, Mrs. Alden James Jr., Mrs. Emmett Whitaker, Mrs. Howard Hoffman, all of Menlo Park, and Mrs. William Lowe, Woodside. Mrs. Leland Rosener Jr. of Atherton is serving on the publicity committee.

Other members of the committee are from Palo Alto, Stanford Los Altos, Los Gatos, San Mateo, San Jose, Burlingame and San Francisco.

Candlelight Capers:

Dinner-Dance Sat.

"Ice breaker parties" will precede "Candlelight Capers" planned for Saturday evening by the parent groups of St. Raymond's Catholic Parish. The pre-Lenten fun party will be held at the Adobe Supper Club in Los Altos.

Couples who will attend the gala affair will first meet at one of the nine "ice breaker" parties which will be held from 5 to 7 p.m. Later, they will go on to dinner at 8 p.m.

Host couples who will open their homes include Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Ragno, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fitzpatrick, Dr. and Mrs. Cedric Lussier, Mr. and Mrs. William Farrar, Mr. and Mrs. James Bacigalupi, Mr. and Mrs. Vance Mape, Mr. and Mrs. John Chaput, Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Lyon and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence McGuire.

The committee has extended an invitation to all friends of St. Raymond's Parish to join them for the evening, according to Mrs. William Gray and Bob Byrnes, co-chairmen. Reservations for the dinner-dance and "ice breaker" parties may be made with Mrs. Raymond L. Garassino, UL 1-1305, or with Mrs. Guido Budelli, DA 3-4870.

At Menlo School:

MOTHERS' CLUB FASHION SHOW

The annual spring benefit fashion show given by the Mothers' Club of Menlo School has been calendared for Friday, March 14, and will follow the theme, "Designer's Bouquet."

The showing will be given at the Menlo School and fashions will be from Joseph Magnin. Mrs. George Dickson Clark Jr. of Atherton, president of the Mothers' Club, has appointed the following committee chairmen:

Mrs. Fred Watkins, Atherton, general chairman; Mrs. Florence Langdon, Menlo Park, honorary chairman; Mrs. Frank Seelig, ticket chairman, assisted by Mrs. Edward Mills and Mrs. Nathan Most; Mrs. Huntley Castner, prizes; Mrs. Walter Westman, refreshments; Mrs. Warren Spieker, decorations, all of Atherton; Mrs. George Reid, Menlo Park, publicity chairman, assisted by Mrs. John Merryman, Atherton. Mrs. C. W. Turner of Palo Alto will assist with refreshments.

What's Doing Among Menlo Park Teen-Agers

Suzanne Horney DA 3-2087

What's doing among German teen-agers! We realize that Germany is, geographically, a long way from Menlo Park. But there's quite a similarity between the youth of that country and ours!

Many of you know Dieter Schulz, a German exchange student at Menlo-Atherton High School. Did you know that Dieter has a 15-year-old sister? Her name is Heike, and according to her, teen-agers in her country have many of the same likes as we.

Heike's favorite recording artists are Elvis Presley, Pat Boone, Perry Como, Nat "King" Cole, and a 17-year-old German singer, Peter Krauss. She and her friends like Rock n' Roll, jeans, and many American movie stars. Heike's favorites are Deborah Kerr, Clark Gable, Cary Grant, Burt Lancaster, Frank Sinatra, Bing Crosby, Grace Kelly and Kim Novak. She also enjoys watching these German stars: Romy Schneider, Horst Buckholz, O .W. Fischer, Maria Schell and Marianne Cook.

Among Heike's record collection are "Banana Boat Song," "Canadian Sunset," and "Woman Love." Too bad the Germans live so far away!

WHAT'S DOING IN M.P.?

With semester finals coming up in two weeks, party life in Menlo Park has practically come to a standstill! Skiing is by far the top activity during the weekends. Bruce Tracy, Peter Hayes and John Kiely were schussing the slopes at Sugar Bowl last week.

At Strawberry Lodge Saturday and Sunday were these teens, all seniors: Sue Clancy, Ron Foster, Sherri Adams, Terry Holland, Carol Drury, Ben Blair, Thelma Masserdotti, Ken Kveseth, Jennifer Perrin, Frank Tripiano, Phyllis Gates, John Symon, Kathy Long, Terry Slack, Donna Gaylord, Dave Webster, Lynne Peterson, Roger Whitmire, Judy Hicks, Lee Pennel, Peggy McDowell.

Fred Pegelow, Phyllis Crockett, Jim Foley, Gail Gantenbien, Kent Morton, Dave Peasley, B. J. Russell, Gary DeGive, Dorel Ettiene, Dieter Schulz, Patsy Gullison, Andy Schwarz, Carolyn DeFeo, Bob Ralls, Bill Meseke, Ken Williams and Ned Hales.

Friday was the night for dancing and swimming, at Dianne Hardy's, whose guests were John Peck, Jane Benidt, Keith Jones, Phoebe Jenks, Mike Skuce, Tom Mosely, Sue Grider, Butch Gordon, Eva Littman, Gerry Varty, Judy Burton, Lynn Vandervoort, Kathy Haried, Rich Cottrell and Teresa Gerbo. Hal Turner and Lesanne Coffin dropped in to chat during the evening.

Music Group To Greet Natl. Officer

Rosalie Speciale of San Jose, national first vice president of Mu Phi Epsilon, national music sorority, will be honored at the January 27 meeting of the Palo Alto Alumnae Chapter of the sorority, according to Mrs. C. W. Woodin of Menlo Park, president of the area chapter.

Members of the executive board will have the national officer as their guest at dinner at the Red Cottage prior to the meeting. Miss Speciale is the national academic advisor of Mu Phi and governor of the Pacific Province and will be making her biennial inspection visit.

The business meeting will be held at the home of Jo Ann Whitson, 2020 Waverley street, Palo Alto, at 7:30 p.m. Miss Speciale will speak to the group and plans will be made for the annual scholarship auditions which will take place in February at the Stanford home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Nanney with Mrs. Bruce Campbell of San Mateo as general chairman of the affair.

PROGRAM

The program following the business meeting will feature Jo Ann Stenberg, San Mateo, pianist, and the Mu Phi Epsilon trio composed of Christine McCann, violin, Maurine Stowe, cello, and Ramona Grim, piano.

Co-hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. L. A. Helgesson and Mrs. Morris W. Mote, both of Palo Alto.

All members of Mu Phi Epsilon are invited to attend and are asked to notify one of the following: Mrs. Helgesson, DA 2-9898; Mrs. George Price, WH 8-1253, or Mrs. Bruce Campbell, DI 4-3829.

Nativity Guild Elects Officers

Mrs. Dan D'Alassandro will take over her new duties as president of the Nativity Guild at the next meeting, Tuesday, February 4, at the parish hall at 8:30 p.m.

Elected to serve with Mrs. D'Alassandro are Mrs. Roger King, vice president; Mrs. Louis Walker, recording secretary; Mrs. Edward Mazik, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Francis Maloney, treasurer; Mrs. Maurice Ackerman, room mother chairman, and Mrs. Waldo Sciarini, publicity.

Guest speaker at the February 4 meeting will be Mrs. Gordon Hazard who will talk on Civilian Defense in the school and in the home.

'Seascape Theme' in Decor:

Second Deep Peninsula Cotillion Held

AREA YOUNG SET members attended last Friday's Deep Peninsula Cotillion which carried a "seascape" theme throughout the table decor and in the murals on the wall. Pictured in the upper photograph are (left to right) Robert Ireland, Michael Gerhardt, Carolyn Means, Judy Cline and Terry Brewster. In the lower photo are (from left) Richard Smith, Wendy Ford, Penny Durfee and David Lang. The second in the series of parties was held at the Methodist Church in Palo Alto. An orchestra from the city played for dancing. The next Deep Peninsula Cotillion will be held Friday, March 14.

Shopping In Menlo

with MERRIE PARKER

The time for fashion shows of gay spring finery is just about here and the local dress shops are already receiving their new frocks as a prelude to the new season. And among the many who will be "stepping high" in new fashions are the little feminine tots and especially for them, Guys 'n Gals has a wonderfully large selection of Gen-Way dresses for the ones who wear sizes 1 to 6X. These dresses are in cotton, nylon and taffeta . . . and are designed for both the party-time or everyday wear. One very pretty little frock we saw was in wonderful nylon with ruffles and a big sash . . . it's hand washable and quick drying and a very cute little number to go a-partying in. These Gen-Way dresses are priced from $6.95 up. While you're at Guys 'n Gals, be sure to take a look at the Sacony line which is being closed out at the local shop . . . on sale are mix-and-match jackets, jumpers and skirts . . . in corduroy and wool.

* * *

"Young men about town" are becoming more and more fashion-minded and take great care for their dress for high school and college dances and social activities. The newest "men's wear," we found out at Hogan's, are the very handsome beige suede and black leather saddles . . . with the black hard rubber sole. Beige and black in combination are so good looking and the dapper young man will be "stepping in the height of fashion" with these new saddles . . . priced at $10.95. Still popular, and available at Hogan's, are the desert boots, white bucks and the black and white saddles, too.

Undoubtedly you, too, have received your photographs taken throughout the past holidays . . . and many others collected from the past months, all of which are waiting to be placed in an album for enjoyment for years to come. We stopped at Plaza Camera Center this week and found a wonderful album which not only holds your pictures but also stores the negatives. The albums are available with either the two or three dividers of acetate holders . . . a picture goes on both sides of the holder, and the negatives are "hidden" in between the photographs. The book holds from 40 to 60 pictures . . . however, the linen hinges of each holder make it possible for you to build up your book to any thickness. The albums are available in texoloid fabric, for $4.45, or in leather for $6.95 . . . and you may choose from four colors, green, blue, brown and red. Fillers, by the way, are $2.25 a set which includes a duplicate number you'll receive with the original book.

* * *

Do you get the "wash day blues" mainly because you haven't washing facilities and equipment where you reside . . . and 'cause the cost goes up, up, up when you send it out? A solution for you is to use the "do it yourself" "Laundra-Room" at One-Hour Martinizing, 654 Santa Cruz avenue. You provide your own soap and use the fully automatic coin-operated machines. A "U-Wash" is 25 cents . . . and a "U-Dry" is 10 cents . . . and for your convenience, there is a rear entrance on the free parking plaza. Hours are 8 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. daily . . . and on Thursday, 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. (Nice for the working customers) . . . and on Saturday, 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Art in Home Class Subjects

Mrs. Gladys Irene Beesley of Atherton will join the staff of the Menlo-Atherton Adult School to offer two new courses in helping the homemaker be more "artful."

The class meeting on Wednesday night will be Homemaking Decorative Artcraft and will include detailed instruction in cake decorating, salads and hors d'oeuvres, placecards and special holiday decor.

The class on Monday evening will include instruction in the art of China painting in addition to the technique of painting table tops of tile, pictures of tiles or other glazed surfaces which can be fired in a kiln.

Mrs. Beesley had her own studio in Phoeniz, Ariz., and previously taught art in the Denver public schools.

Open Tomorrow:

Symphony Previews Scheduled

Peninsula residents are invited to attend the symphony previews sponsored by the Junior League of San Francisco Inc. in cooperation with the San Francisco Symphony Association.

There will be three symphony previews in this year's series, all of which will be based on the symphony program of the current week in which the preview takes place.

The first preview will be held tomorrow at 11 a.m. in the Peacock Court of the Hotel Mark Hopkins. Dr. Robin Lauter, newly-appointed director of the San Francisco Conservatory of Music, will be the guest speaker and will include recorded excerpts from the symphony and also piano excerpts.

NOTED CONDUCTOR

On Thursday, February 13, at 11 a.m. in the Peacock Court of the Mark Hopkins, Virgil Thomson, noted conductor and music critic for the New York Herald Tribune, will be the guest speaker at the second symphony preview. He will discuss his own programmed works which he will be conducting while in San Francisco with the San Francisco Symphony.

The Nob Hill Room at the Hotel Fairmont will be the scene of the third and last symphony preview on Thursday ,March 6, at 11 a.m. Dr. Wendell Otey, professor of music at San Francisco State, will speak on "Appreciation of the Guitar in a Symphonic Program." This topic has been chosen to coincide with Andres Segovia's guest appearance with the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra.

These previews are open to the public free of charge. The symphony previews are presented through the Community Trust Fund of the Junior League.

Episcopalians Set Luncheon

"Luncheon is Served" will be the theme of an afternoon social to be presented next Tuesday at the Holy Trinity Episcopal Church hall, Ravenswood avenue and Pine street.

The affair, to which the public is invited, will convene at 1 p.m., acoording to Mrs. George Wilson, chairman in charge. The luncheon will be followed by an afternoon of bridge and canasta.

Proceeds of the sale of tickets for the lunch will be used for the purchase of new dinnerware for the church hall.

Persons planning to attend should call Mrs. Eric Woods, DA 6-2148, for reservations.

'Bargain' for Music Lovers:

Lunch-Transportation Arranged

The San Francisco Symphony Association, in cooperation with its Peninsula Women's Public Interest Committee, and the Villa Hotel, is again announcing a special offer for local music lovers, "A Spring Symphony Series".

According to Mrs. Winston C. Black of Atherton, chairman of the Peninsula Women's Public Interest Committee, four concerts of the regular Friday afternoon series will be preceded by luncheon at the Villa Hotel with private bus transportation to and from the Opera House in the City. The luncheon and bus transportation along with orchestra seats for the four concerts are priced at $25.

The concerts are: Naoum Blinder, violinist, February 7; Andres Segovia, guitarist, March 7; Igor Stravinsky, guest conductor, April 18, and AlexanderBrailowsky, pianist, May 2.

Luncheon at the Villa Hotel begins at 12 noon with the buses scheduled to leave at 1:15 p.m. and returning at approximately 4:45 p.m. to the hotel.

Local music lovers interested in this music special may send their reservations to the San Francisco Symphony Association, 431 War Memorial Opera House, San Francisco 2, Calif.

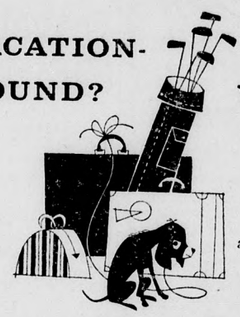

Committees serving on Mrs. Black's committee include Mrs. Alfred Baxter, Mrs. H. Holbrook Belcher, Mrs. Howard Borer, Mrs. Paul Dibert, Mrs Robert Franck, Mrs. Frederick Sherman, Mrs. Frederick Weir, Mrs. Eli H. Weir, Mrs. Richard Zellerbach, all of Atherton; Mrs. L. Polk Dodson, Mrs. Marshall H. Fisher and Mrs. Richard Girvin, all of Woodside.

A NO-HOST dinner-dance will be held tomorrow evening, January 24, for members of the Menlo-Atherton Branch of the American Association of University Women and their husbands at the San Mateo Elks Club.

SPRING SHOWING CALENDARED

"Silhouettes for Spring" will be the theme of the third annual style show being planned by the Menertons for Wednesday, March 5, in the Pacifica Room of the Villa Hotel in San Mateo.

A contribution from the proceeds will be made to the bay area's educational television station KQED.

Planning the fashion event are Mrs. Harold E. Pridmore, president of the Menertons; Mrs. Austin Wakeman, chairman of the show; Mrs. J. R. McGuinn, reservations; Mrs. Thomas Eldridge, financial secretary.

Mrs. James O'Donoghue, publicity; Mrs. R. G. Carpenter, decorations; Mrs. Robert Forbes, programs; Mrs. William Malmberg, models; Mrs. H. Arthur Hatch, favors; Mrs. Glenn Harding, printing; Mrs. Guy Sperry, Mrs. Robert Rockwell, Mrs. R. C. Morrall and Mrs. Kenneth Romanoff, assistants.

RETURNING TO BAKERSfield after a week's visit with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Griffiths of Menlo Park, and her new granddaughter, Jennifer Kelley, is Mrs. Richard Griffiths. Motoring north to pick her up over the weekend were her husband and son, Paul.

At Luncheon Event:

Westminster Women Install

WESTMINSTER WOMEN of Menlo Park Presbyterian Church held an installation-luncheon event last Thursday at the church. Dr. Don Emerson Hall, who installed the new officers, is shown with (from left) Mrs. J. P. Ring, third vice-president and world service chairman; Mrs. Owen Johnson, taking her second term as president; Mrs. Owen Cline, first vice-president and program chairman; and, Mrs. Joseph Brain, second vice-president and fellowship chairman.

Additional officers have been announced by the Westminster Women's Association of the Menlo Park Presbyterian Church and were installed at last Thursday's luncheon meeting.

Mrs. Ivan McGinnis is the new recording secretary and Mrs. John Davenport is the new Sunshine committee chairman.

Leaders for the various circles in the group are Mrs. David Neilson, Mrs. Charles Kelly, Mrs. L. F. Miner, Mrs. D. R. DeMarce, Mrs. Scott Bauman, Mrs. Ruth Stonehouse, Mrs. C. F. Stevey, Mrs. Richard Steinstra and Mrs. Edward Nelson.

Year In Hawaii Topic for PTA

Homer Alderman, principal of Fremont School, will tell of his year as an exchange principal in Hawaii, at next Monday's meeting of the Fremont PTA.

The meeting will begin at 8 p.m.

Plans are also being formulated fort a play to be sponsored by the PTA this spring. Mrs. Anne Hammermann, who has had experience writing and producing plays at Menlo College and in Menlo Park and Palo Alto, will produce her own fantasy, "End of the Rainbow."

Mrs. Hammerman will be assisted by Mrs. E. G. Garrett, Mrs. C. C. Dwelley and Mrs. Anthony DeOcampo. Tryouts for the play are scheduled for next week.

Travelers: They're Going Hither, Thither and Yon

By PROXY

Traveling hither, thither and yon . . . localites have been on the go or are going.

A month in the Hawaiian Islands has just been concluded by Mr. and Mrs. Harry V. Spade of Menlo Park who returned to the mainland last Friday "all in a fog." Quite a contrast to the sunny, sunny sojourn they enjoyed was the socked in bay area when their plane came in for a landing at San Francisco International Airport only to be signaled to continue on to Reno . . . where the localites spent the last three hours of their vacation-time before returning home. While in the islands, the Spades visited with their son and daughter-in-law, Lt. and Mrs. Harry V. Spade Jr., and met for the first time their new grandson, five-month-old Kevin Spade. Lt. Spade is stationed in Hawaii and lives at Barber's Point with his family.

* * * *

An island-bound visitor leaving this Saturday is Joanne Broeren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Broeren of Atherton, who will fly to Hawaii as guest of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Cory of Chehalis, Wash. Waikiki Biltmore will be the headquarters for Joanne and her grandparents for two weeks after which the local girl will return home briefly before going on to UCLA

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Harrington and daughter, Susan, were among the recent passengers aboard the Pan American "Super Seven" Clipper from San Francisco when the plane took off for Europe via the airline's new polar route. The local family spent two weeks visiting in London and Paris.

* * * *

Last Friday evening, following the first of two weekend performances by the Peninsula Symphony Orchestra, Martha and Ursula Cleary were hostesses at a reception for the orchestra personnel and music lovers who were invited to meet the guest violinist Valerie Archibald of San Diego. Miss Archibald chose a French blue velvet gown for her concert appearance and for the reception . . . young usherettes at the concert and also at the reception were students from the Convent of the Sacred Heart . . . they included Trish Langdon and Martha Golden, both of Menlo Park, Sandy Starr of Atherton, Sharon Greeley of Los Altos and Kay Alleghrini of Santa Cruz who did the Friday ushering. Saturday evening usherettes were Charlotte Miller of Saudi, Arabia, and Eugenia Stanker, Joyce Packard, Ann Mohun, Margaret Nichols, Regan Ewing and Joan White, all of Menlo Park.

Others attending the reception were Dan Taft of Atherton, who is starring in a West Bay Opera production, and Alicia Greeley, who is now singing in San Francisco . . . also, John Adams of Menlo Park, bass player for the symphony, and Tom Kernan of Atherton . . . Paul and Ione Sturgeon of Menlo Park, he is the principal violinist and she is the symphony librarian, Conductor Aaron Sten and Mrs. Sten down from San Carlos . . . Bob and Andree Clark of Hillsdale, he is president of the Symphony Association. The reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Cleary of Menlo Park.

Coeds Active at Bishop School

Two local coeds are among those enrolled at Bishop's School at La Jolla this year where both are active in school affairs.

Barbara Lee Randall, daughter of Mrs. Irving Randall Jr. of Menlo Park, is secretary of the junior class. She is also an associate member of the Altar Guild and is a member of the tennis and French clubs.

Melissa Lowe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Lowe of Atherton, is a cheer leader for the junior class and also plays on the hockey team. She, too, is a member of the French club.

YOUTH CONCERTS INC. will present "Die Fledermaus" Sunday, February 9, at Palo Alto Senior High School auditorium. Ticket information may be obtained by calling Mrs. George Ditz Jr., DA 3-9963, or Mrs. Myron Kirsch, DA 2-4224.

A MEETING of the Woodside-Portola District of Girl Scouts will be held Tuesday, January 28, at 12:30 p.m. at 154 Wayside road, Portola.

Today and Tomorrow:

Bid to Open House

BUDDING ARTISTS? Perhaps, and if so, Mark Chaffee and Karon Harvey will give "credit due" to their early training at the Menlo-Atherton Nursery School which is holding open house today and tomorrow from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. at Menlo Civic Center. All interested parents are invited to attend.

In conjunction with Nursery Education Week, proclaimed by Governor Goodwin Knight for January 19 to 26, the Menlo-Atherton Nursery School will hold an open house today and tomorrow from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. at the Menlo Civic Center.

The local nursery (a cooperative) is located in back of the new library and is sponsored by the Menlo-Atherton Adult Education program. The school is open to all children 2½ to 5 years of age living in this area.

Further information regarding the school may be obtained at the open house or by calling the membership chairman, Mrs. B. W. Kleerup, DA 5-9873, or the director, Mrs. Jules Seitz, DA 3-2545.

Single Adults Bid to Party

All single adults in the area, 25 years of age and over, are invited to an open house dance and party at the new YMCA building, 3412 Ross road, Palo Alto, this Saturday evening from 8:30 p.m. to 12:30 a.m.

This is the first dance and party in the new building and the first meeting for this new interest group for single adults. Tentative plans have been made to hold a semi-monthly event on the second and fourth Saturdays of each month.

Refreshments will be served and no admission will be charged for the party Saturday evening.

Further information concerning the group may be obtained by calling Mrs. Olive Mann, DA 5-7713.

Chiropractic Auxiliary To Meet Tuesday

The San Mateo County Chiropractic Auxiliary will meet at the Villa Hotel in San Mateo next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock and will make plans for election of officers in March.

One of the projects for the year, "Clathing for the Sioux Indians," will be discussed and planned and committees will be appointed for the collection of materials for this cause.

Work will also begin on the scrapbook which will be entered at the state convention in July.

JOB'S DAUGHTERS Bethel 242, Menlo Park, presented member of honor certificates at the January 9 meeting to Mrs. Loraine Cross, first guardian of the local bethel, and Mr. and Mrs. Royal Hodge.

MR. AND MRS. William Coldiro nof Menlo Park were recent guests at the Del Monte Lodge, Pebble Beach.

WE'RE LOOKING FOR HANDY ANDY!

$16,950 — 4 Bedrooms - 2 Baths — $1,000 DOWN

IT'S AWFUL! Needs paint and a general cleanup. BUT it's located on a quiet street close to everything with many trees. OLD AS THE HILLS WITH A GENUINE TARPAPER ROOF! HORVITZ HAS A PHOBIA about telling the truth! Like the late G. Washington, HE CANNOT TELL A LIE. True, IT NEEDS WORK, but it can easily be turned into a much, much more valuable piece of property by the diligent application of some good paint and a little soap. IT'LL TAKE ELBOW GREASE, TOO! But, there are 4 full bedrooms and 2 full baths (one with a Sears, Roebuck shower)! Included is a genuine 2-car garage that is built as well or better than the house. Horvitz is stuck with this one—and he is anxious to be rid of it. See it—maybe you can use it. SERIOUSLY, IT DOES HAVE POSSIBILITIES GALORE. Do you have some imagination?
